

ANKA STERF TRAGIES

Rustenburg – Anka Vorster, 23 jaar, is tragies oorlede in 'n motorongeluk op Woensdag, 12 April 2017. Anka was 'n bekende gesig en was werkzaam by die Aasvoëlkrans, net buite Rustenburg. 'n Familievriend van Anka sê dat haar motor onklaar geraak het op die R24, op die draai oppad na Rustenburg by die Boons/Derby afrit net buite Olifantsnek. Volgens Kaptein Elsabé Augustides, polisiewoordvoerder, het 'n huurmotor volgens berigte van agter teen Anka se motor gebots, 'n Volkswagen Beetle. Sy het op die toneel nog gelewe, maar is met haar aankoms by die hospitaal oorlede. Ons betuig ons innige meegevoel aan die vriende en familie van Anka.

Dagga can still land you in jail, Dagga Bust in Boons

Boons/ Koster – The Police in Boons arrested two suspects, aged 30 and 53, for the possession of dagga, on Friday, 14 April 2017. The arrest came after a tip-off about a drug-dealer doing business in Redirile, a township near Derby. Sixteen 50kg bags of dagga as well as two black refuse bags stuffed with dagga were confiscated at the scene. The suspects appeared before the Koster Magistrates' Court on Tuesday, 18 April 2017, Lieutenant Colonel Pelonomi Makau reported.

Dagga can still land you in jail!

The Western Cape High Court has on Friday 31 March 2017, ruled the prohibition of cannabis unconstitutional, but smoking dagga can still land you in jail.

- The judgment still had to be confirmed by the Constitutional Court and then referred to Parliament.
- Parliament still have up to two years to change the relevant laws before the possession and/or use of cannabis was officially decriminalised.
- The ruling pertained only to having or using cannabis at home and had no effect on laws governing the use and possession of cannabis in public and distribution of the substance in public.

In his ruling, Judge Davis, with two judges concurring, found that laws prohibiting the use of cannabis and the possession, purchase and/or cultivation of it – in private homes and for personal consumption – were inconsistent with the Constitution and declared them invalid.

He said Parliament should have 24 months to make the relevant changes to legislation but in the interim, he said, prosecutions relating to these laws should be stayed. He also ordered that until the relevant legislative changes had been made – or until the 24 months were up – that "it will be deemed to be a defence that the use, possession, purchase or cultivation of cannabis in a private dwelling is for the personal consumption of the adult accused."
