Cancer education for women's month

NW – August is Women's Month and Bakwena N1N4 has partnered with PinkDrive and the Department of Health to raise awareness around breast, testicular and prostate cancer in communities surrounding the Platinum Highway in the North West Province.

The aim is to educate people about the various types of cancers, early lump detection and clinical examinations.

The second phase of the campaign, which involves the education and screening of the community, will take place on 14-15 August at the Lehurutshe Clinic, and between 16-17 August at the Dinokana Clinic. Between 28-29 August, the campaign will move to the Groot Marico Clinic and on 30-31 August to the Tshwelelopele Clinic in Zeerust. The team will also talk to learners at the schools in the areas surrounding the various clinics. This year, the Pink Drive mammography truck will be stationed at Dinokana on 17 August and at Tshwelelopele Clinic on 31 August.

Bakwena's corporate social investment focus areas include, but are not limited to, road safety, health, environment and heritage as well as social economic development. Notably, the organisation initiates extensive social development programmes amongst the communities along the routes it constructs, operates, maintains and builds.

PinkDrive is a Public Benefit

Organisation powering South Africa's first mobile mammography and educational unit and taking its message that 'Early Detection Saves Lives' to communities throughout South Africa. To date, PinkDrive have conducted 11 828 mammograms, 120 192 clinical breast examinations, and educated 306 749 586 women on breast cancer.

Bakwena is proud to support initiatives such as these as they have the ability to empower, educate and equip women, children and men with the necessary information to manage their health more effectively.

71 auxiliary nurses certified

ENA graduates taking the pledge.

Klerksdorp – A total of 71 auxiliary nurses from both Taung- and Witrand nursing schools were awarded certificates for completing their ENA course successfully, on 10 August. The certification, lamp lighting and pledge of service ceremony were held on 4 August at Strydom Hall in Klerksdorp.

The group comprised of a total of 39 graduates from Taung nursing school and 32 graduates from Witrand nursing school.

Former MMC for Health in Dr. Kenneth Kaunda District, and the current chairperson of the Klerksdorp Tshepeng Hospital board, Me. Nonzaliseko Mendela applauded the ENA graduates for a job well done!

Mendela also mentioned to the new ENA graduates

Florence Nightingale, "Today as we are going to have this ceremony, you are going to be given the lamp and the light, you are going to be led on the nurses' pledge like Florence Nightingale, the nurse who took care of soldiers by the light of her lamp. Today when you are reminded of her, you are going to be reminded of your duties, and the task that is in front of you."

She also emphasized the need for nurses to understand physiology and expressed gratitude to the nurses' lecturers. "I want to give a special mention for a job well done to the lecturers," concluded Mendela.

Thanking the Department of Health on behalf of all students, Ms. Gomoelmo Mogwera said they promise to keep the Florence Nightingale light burning forever.
