Several Farm murders around the country

A staggering amount of farm attacks and murders have been reported in a timeframe of only 24 hours at several locations around the country. Many of these attacks included torture and murder.

Kinross – Anton Muller, a 62-year old farmer was shot twice on a smallholding near Kinross Mpumalanga, before he was thrown onto the back seat of his vehicle, which was set alight. This attack and murder took place on Monday morning, 21 August between the hours of 01h30 and 02h00. There were four attackers, three of whom were in possession of firearms. The suspects tied him up and tortured him with an iron and demanded money which he did not have. In the end they left with a television, play station and a drill.

Baberton – On Sunday 20 August, James Monroe from the farm Ncanduzi next to the N4 near Baberton was attacked. A group of 3 or 4 attackers, carrying pistols and knives gained access to the premises via the bathroom window. Monroe was tied up together with two other people. The suspects took a laptop, DVDs, a cell phone, a wallet and his vehicle's keys. Luckily the pistol wouldn't fire so Monroe was knocked over the head with it, after which he was taken to hospital.

Maanhaarrand – Arno Niehaus, owner and manager of The Big Creek Lodge on the R24 near Maanhaarrand was allegedly found murdered in his house on Saturday, 19 August. He had been strangled. His body was only discovered the next day. A cell phone and other personal belongings were taken. It seems as though two men in an unidentified vehicle enquired about a room around 22h00. They were allowed on the premises, where it is suspected they were responsible for Niehaus's murder. The case is currently being investigated.

Winterton – A farmer from Kwazulu-Natal was shot near his kraal on Monday morning, 21 August close to Winterton. "Lt. col. Thulani Zwane, police spokesperson, said that the farmer and his workers saw that the locks of the kraal had been cut overnight. They were still busy investigating when an unknown man appeared," said Marius Müller, spokesperson for AfriForum. "The man allegedly shot at the farmer and wounded him. The farmer shot back and the unknown man was killed. A pistol was later found in his possession. The farmer was rushed to hospital, it is not yet clear how serious his condition is," said Lt.col Thulani Zwane, police spokesperson. A case of attempted murder is being investigated.

Roedtan – An elderly couple was murdered in the early hours of Sunday, 20 August on their farm in Roedtan, Limpopo. Piet and Tilla van Zyl were overrun in their house after suspects allegedly broke in through their bedroom window. The van Zyls were held with pistols while their house was plundered. The couple was eventually shot dead and was found the following morning by a family member.
