

Coco sniffing out the criminals

Members of HenCor and BCU taking criminals off the street.

Rustenburg – HenCor K9 Security in collaboration with the Bojanala Crime Unit (BCU) launched a successful clean-up operation at Safari Spar on Tuesday 5 February.

With the assistance of HenCor's narcotics dog, Coco, a drug dealer was sniffed out and captured together with another man selling illegal DVDs.

Dogs like Coco play a big role in these types of operations. They are trained in narcotic detection, patrolling and tracking. Criminals don't stand a chance and if you are a criminal you should always be looking over your shoulder.

In an interview with Platinum Weekly, owner of HenCor K9 Security Henry Holtzhausen said: "The operation at Safari Spar was a great success. We wanted to make the complex safer for the community by removing the criminal elements threatening this area. We are cleaning up Rustenburg and taking our city back from the criminals. This is just the beginning!"

Local police task team among the best in the country

Rustenburg/ Phokeng – A local task team of the Phokeng Police received a very prestigious award at the North West SAPS annual service excellence awards ceremony on 16 November 2018 and again at the National Excellence Awards ceremony on 25 January 2019.

The team consisting of sergeant Lazerus Maledu, sergeant Moruam Mokoditlo, captain Patrick Muruwa and warrant officer Jannie van der Walt, received the title of the best detective team in the province and was also awarded the first runners up for the best detective team of the year. One of their greatest achievements that contributed to these awards, came after they had two cases in which they managed to arrest the culprits within 72 hours. This team investigates serious crimes within the Rustenburg area. They are also tasked to deal with sensational murder cases, cash-in-transit heists and other serious investigations assigned to them for further investigation. They actively contribute to effectively combat serious crimes.
