In remembrance

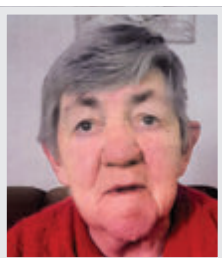

Bruno Carriero het baie stene gelê in Rustenburg en dit was beslis 'n groot slag vir die gemeenskap om te leer van sy afsterwe op Sondag 13 November 2022. Hy was bekend as

'n gesoute besigheidsman wat vir 22 jaar aan die stuur van Bruno's Paving was. Vir die wat hom goed geken het, was hy 'n man wat lekker kon grappe maak, 'n uitstekende kok en 'n getroue vriend. Hy was iemand wat graag raad gegee het, of partykeer net 'n skouer was om op te hui. Sy familie sal hom onthou as 'n liefdevolle man, wonderlike pa, 'n man met 'n hart van goud en 'n kind van God.

Bruno se lewensviering het op Saterdag 19 November 2022 vanuit die NG Kerk Proteapark plaasgevind.

Die familie wil almal hiermee bedank wat hul bygestaan het deur hierdie moeilike tyd. Hetsy 'n oproep, gebed, blomme of watter gebaar ook al. Hul waardeer dit uit hul harte.

Kom deel die lewensviering van wyle Magda Booysen (74), oorlede op Maandag 21 November 2022. Ons groet haar op 28 November 2022 om 11:00 vanuit die saal by Rusoord

Are you the next Mrs Rustenburg?

Rustenburg – The Mrs. Rustenburg pageant has become a tradition in Rustenburg over the years. They were also negatively affected by the Covid-19 regulations, but the pageant is back on the map.

After taking a pause from the spotlight, they are now looking to crown the next Mrs. Rustenburg.

The Mrs. Rustenburg title includes responsibilities that are rooted in giving back to the community. It has grown to be much more than just a beauty pageant, but rather a means to elevate and celebrate women. Those who selflessly seek to initiate positive change, who are dedicated to their families and their communities, and a role model are invited to enter. You don't have to be a catwalk expert to win, you must just have the right attitude!

Married, divorced, or widowed women aged 18 to 50 can enter. Entry fees are R250, and the closing date is 20 December 2022. The semi-finals will take place on 14 January 2023, with the ultimate Mrs. Rustenburg being chosen on Saturday 18 March 2023.

Contestants will be expected to be involved in community service, gain sponsors, and raise funds for charity.

They will also be required to participate in teambuilding exercises and outreach projects.

All these activities will count towards taking the crown and the title. This is a pageant for the community, and everyone can get involved either by supporting the contestants or by sponsoring prizes for the event.

HELD HOSTAGE AT MY CHILDREN'S SCHOOL

[Letter 'voice note' to the editor]

Rustenburg – At the beginning of the school year, I enrolled my children at a local school. Their father paid the school fees in full for the entire year. My eldest son is in Grade four and my youngest is in Grade R. I never expected to be held hostage at the school (on Thursday 13 October 2022). In March 2021, I moved into a cottage on the school premises, and for a while, I had no problems until September 2022. On 10 September, I had an incident where my father – whom I haven't seen since February, and whom I don't have a good relationship with – contacted the school and asked them about my life since I moved onto the premises. The school informed him that there were no issues. My father then misled the school and told them that I use drugs and abuse my children and that I neglect them. The school then relayed to him that I lock my children in the cottage and that I sometimes leave them on their own overnight without returning home. I must stress that I have never done anything of the sort. (my father's behaviour explained later on in this message) On Wednesday 12 October 2022, two social workers came to the school premises to investigate the reports. Because I wanted to cooperate, I arranged with the social workers that I would take my children to their office for a session on 13 October. I wanted to allow them to speak to my kids and start their investigation.

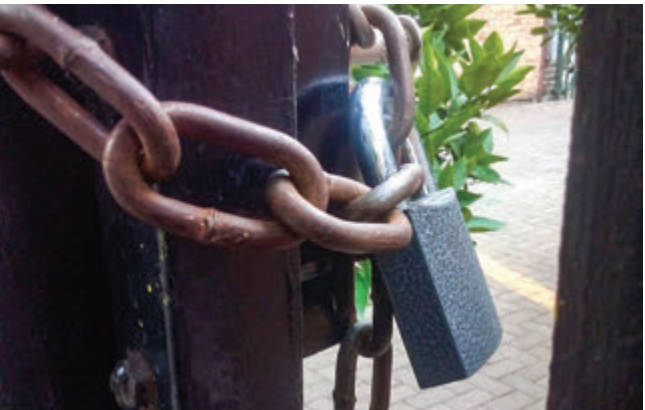

To do this, I went to the school office to inform them that my children would be going to school a bit later. As I was on my way to leave, the school prevented me from leaving the premises. They locked me in and changed the locks on the gates without giving me new keys. The school then contacted the social worker who was working on my case and told her that I am trying to kidnap my own kids. They also notified her that they had secured the premises to lock me in. The social worker was in court at the time so she couldn't go to the school immediately but informed the school that they were not allowed to keep me on the premises against my will. After all, I am not a criminal and I had not been charged with anything. Finally, at around 09:45 am, they unlocked the gates. I had to make arrangements at my work to go in later, after which I headed straight to the court to meet the social workers. My kids then went to the social worker's office for their assessment. The kids reported that during that week, the school secretary as well as my youngest son's teacher called them out of their classes on two occasions and asked them about the whereabouts of their father. They had pictures of my ex-husband on their laptops and asked my kids, "Does your father love you? Does your mommy love you? We know that your mommy hurts you, you can talk to us." My children told them that I don't hurt them and that I have never hurt them. They then asked my kids if their father is a gangster or a criminal. To which my children replied, "no." I proceeded to get a protection order against the school which was granted by the court because of the aggravating circumstances. After receiving the notice from the court which stated that we would appear in court on the 22nd of November, they locked me in again, with the same chains and different locks. The school even instructed my neighbour to not open the gate for me and made it clear to not let me out. So, even if I had an emergency, I wouldn't have been able to leave the premises, and emergency services would also not have been able to reach me. I contacted the police but was informed that I had to go to the police station to apply for a warrant of arrest. Again, the school asked my children inappropriate questions, and on the 28th of October, the secretary called my father. She had my youngest son speak to him, and he told my son that he was coming to save him. I was very worried because it felt like they were trying to kidnap my children. My parents – whom I hadn't seen for a long time – called the Department of Social Development (DSD) and told them that the school had informed them about the alleged abuse. They fabricated stories and said that my kids would often go to the office to ask for food. My kids denied the accusation because I pack sufficient lunch for them. I even at times give them pocket money. I work six minutes from the property, so I take my lunch break when the school comes out, and then I prepare lunch for them. I sometimes even start preparing for supper in my lunchtime. They also told the social workers that I fetch my children late from school, after all the other kids have gone home. I work till 16:30 pm, and we live on the school premises. There is supervision where an adult helps them with their homework and extramural activities. The latest I ever collected my kids was at 17:00 pm. On the 1st of November, my son had a seizure because of stress and anxiety. He couldn't speak or walk, and it looked like the symptoms of a stroke. The school contacted my parents and told them that I refused to open the door and that emergency services were ready to kick down my door because I was refusing to let my child out. They also notified my father about the facility my son was admitted to – and he then harassed the doctors for information. What followed was a networking meeting on the 4th of November where the department of DSD was present as well as the social workers who had been working with my children since the beginning. They even had a forensic social worker on the case who attended the meeting. The secretary said in the meeting that she had planned to give my children to my father because I needed to attend rehab. The drug allegation proved false after I received a negative drug test (tested for several drugs). The social workers then shared their reports; the forensic social worker assessed me and my children for six hours and found no signs of abuse and concluded that my children were happy with me. There was no negligence or signs of poor provision as I supplied my 11-page bank statement that reflected that I was employed and that the monthly maintenance from their father, as well as a trust fund set up by their late grandmother, was being channelled toward my kids. My father is known to swindle money, and I suspect that when he found out about my children's trust fund, he wanted to get his hands on their money. He also discovered that I had bought shares for my children, which motivated him to reach out to the DSD. When there was no ground for the allegations, the school gave more false witness statements about how I treat my children. They kept mentioning that they were concerned that I would kidnap my children and run away with them. How does a mother – who has legal guardianship – even kidnap her own kids? The report from the social workers cleared me and proved that I am not an unfit mother—nor am I abusive in any way. But the school and my parents keep conspiring to slander me and want to take my children away from me. The final court appearance, which was scheduled for the 22nd of November 2022, has been postponed to the 13th of December 2022. The nightmare has taken an emotional and physical toll on me and my children. I am at my wit's end because I love my children and I am tired of being harassed. What more do I have to do to prove I am a fit mother?

A Harassed Mother

Platinum Weekly reached out to Rustenburg Child Welfare to find out what a person can do if they are being falsely accused of child abuse or neglect. According to Rustenburg Child Welfare social worker, Deidre Janse van Rensburg, the best thing to do is to totally cooperate with social services. "If you cooperate, we can quickly determine whether there are concerns or not. We will always be transparent with our clients about our concerns—if there are any."

The locks were changed, and I could not exit the premises.

HAWKS NAB ILLEGAL MINING KINGPINS

Illegal mining kingpins were arrested on Wednesday 16 November 2022.

Rustenburg – Four suspected kingpins, believed to be the brains behind illegal mining activities, have been set to appear before the Mogwase Magistrates’ Court for a second time on Wednesday 24 November 2022.

Jersey Matloug (72), Judith Phiri (33), Mosimanegape Thomson Makgothi (51), Justin Phiri (36) and George Moyo (33) are facing various charges including illegal mining, public violence, defeating the ends of justice, and malicious damage to property. They were arrested on Wednesday 16 November by members of the Hawks’ serious organised crime investigation unit and the illegal mining task team.

Matloug and Makgothi were each granted R1,500 bail while Justin Phiri and George Moyo were granted R1,000 and R500 bail respectively during the court appearance on Tuesday 17 November.

“Judith Phiri was released on a warning. The matter will be heard on 24 December 2022,” said North West Hawks spokesperson captain Tlangelani Rikhotso. Rikhotso also pointed out that during the arrests, two vehicles believed to have been obtained through the proceeds of crime were seized for further investigation.

The arrests followed a continuation of initial investigations that resulted in Samuel Saki Makhoti (68) and Andries Sekgobela (44) being arrested in Rustenburg for illegal mining on 7 April 2022. The two appeared before the Mogwase Magistrates’ Court on 11 April and were each granted R3,000 bail and are also due to appear before the Mogwase Magistrate’s court on 24 November 2022.

“The initial operation which took place at a Rustenburg mine led to the seizure of illegally mined chrome worth over R2 million and equipment (vehicles and excavators) worth approximately R100 million,” Rikhotso said.

FIVE DROWN IN SIX DAYS

Police divers have recovered the bodies of five victims who drowned – in separate incidents.

North West – Police divers attended to five drowning incidents which occurred within a span of just six days, and managed to recover the bodies of the victims.

In the first incident in Brits on Friday 11 November 2022, the body of an unknown female was recovered at Klipkop in the Crocodile River at about 17:00 pm. This was after she allegedly fell into the river and drowned.

The following day, the body of a 15-year-old boy was recovered in a dam in Koster at around 14:20 pm. A third incident was reported in Jouberton on the same day, but the police divers only found the body of a female victim two days later. The body of the fourth victim was in a state of decomposition when it was recovered from the Hex River in Boitekong on Monday 14 November.

According to police spokesperson Adele Myburg, the last unidentified body of a male was recovered in Brits on Thursday 17 November in the Crocodile River.

Myburgh advises community members to ensure that water depths are appropriate for swimming and diving before venturing into the water. “Before entering the water, check the strength of the current. When caught in a fast-flowing river, travel feet first, this will protect the head and body from serious injury,” Myburgh added.

Police investigators were spotted at the corner of Pendoring and Abelia Avenue combing the area for possible leads.

CAR THIEVES INJURED IN SHOOTOUT

Rustenburg – A grey Golf 7 that had been stolen during a house robbery at Platinum Village in Rustenburg on Wednesday 16 November 2022 was recovered after a shootout between police and the suspects.

This was after police, who had been patrolling the Geelhout Park area at around 03:45 on Thursday 17 November, spotted the car and followed in pursuit.

Police spokesperson sergeant Ofentse Mokgadi said that the suspects started shooting at the police at the corner of Pendoring and Abelia Avenue. “The police returned fire, after which the suspects stopped the vehicle and fled on foot. Nobody was arrested but traces of blood were identified inside the Golf,” said Mokgadi, “No police officials were injured.”

A man who lives close to the scene of the shooting said he was woken up by the loud sounds of gunfire. “We woke up to the sound of screeching tyres which was followed by many gunshots,” he said, “When we went outside the yard, the police and members of the community policing forum (CPF) were busy searching scanning the area.”

MAN’S BODY FOUND IN CANAL

Rustenburg – The body of a man was discovered floating in a canal close to the Rustenburg Mall on Monday 21 November 2022.

Police, who are conducting an investigation, are yet to establish the circumstances leading to the man’s death. “The police are waiting for the results of an autopsy to shed light into the incident,” said police spokesperson sergeant Ofentse Mokgadi.

Anyone with information that can assist with the investigation is requested to contact detective sergeant Tebogo Chidi at 082 772 8658.

COMMUTERS HARASSED

Rustenburg – There has been an increase in recent reports of pedestrians and motorists who are being harassed by other road users.

There have been various reports from well-known hitchhiking spots. These include the central business district (CBD), the R24, and the R104. However, the reports are not restricted to hiking spots, but also from where commuters wish to use other means of transport. Most incidents are reported early in the morning when commuters are on their way to work, and when using communal transport.

The National Road Transport Act of 1993 indicates the duties of a traffic officer. This includes a police officer appointed in terms of the South African Police Service Act, of 1995. Therefore, only traffic officers and appointed police officers are allowed to stop, inspect, and perform road traffic functions. Motorists who are pulled over and intimidated by other motorists are urged to report the matter to the police station.

Sections 50 and 90 of the National Land and Transportation Act of 2009 require a permit and authorisation whenever the transport of passengers is undertaken for reward. Therefore, it is not against the law to pick up a passenger if no reward is paid. This also means that no one can dictate to any pedestrian which mode of transport to take.

Brigadier Joël Pheto, the acting Rustenburg Station Commander, has expressed his concern about the intimidation of commuters and indicated that strict action will be taken against those transgressing the law.

PIT BULL OWNERS, TAKE NOTE...

Rustenburg – The frequency of violent pit bull attacks has brought a lot of media attention to the breed. The debate about banning the breed has sparked outrage among people on both sides of the fence.

The Rustenburg Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (SPCA) has voiced its concern about community members that might take this matter into their own hands.

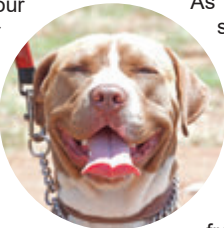

They urge anyone who is afraid of their dog, for any reason, regardless of the breed to please surrender the dog to the SPCA. Although donations are welcome, there are no costs and no judgement that comes with surrendering a pet to them. They will never turn an animal away. If you need advice or assistance with a pet always feel free to contact them.

If you own a pit bull, please keep your dog safe. For the safety of your dog, they should be kept indoors, or in a confined, sheltered area where they are out of view of the road at night. This is to prevent them from being harmed, stolen, or poisoned. This does not mean they must be caged or locked up in a small space.

"If you own a pit bull purely to guard your property, rather surrender them to your closest SPCA. If you have a pit bull tied up as a guard dog, you are setting yourself up for tragedy, and putting your dog in a very unsafe situation. Please surrender your dog. If you need security for your yard, contact a security company," they advised.

The National SPCA (NSPCA) has also noted with concern that pit bulls are being surrendered to SPCAs in large numbers. According to a press release dated Wednesday 23 November 2022 in communities where owners have not surrendered their pit bulls, the community members are beginning to take matters into their own hands. Animals are being poisoned, stabbed, beaten, and set alight in retaliation from angry communities.

This issue has also gained the attention of major political parties, National Unions, and National Civic Organisations either quoting or misquoting the NSPCA or threatening/instructing pit bull owners to surrender their dogs to the SPCA.

As the number of aggressive dogs surrendered to SPCAs across South Africa increases, so too does the NSPCAs concern for the effect this will have on SPCAs (especially the smaller societies operating in outlying areas) as well as what will happen in the areas where there are no SPCAs.

The SPCA does not receive funding from the government. In addition to the vital work that SPCAs are already providing to their communities on limited resources, they are faced with dealing with this issue alone as well.

The SPCA movement is acting at great risk and cost to assist animals and communities. Realistically, the movement does not have the resources to cover the cost of this national campaign without support from other relevant role-players in this matter.

The NSPCA has formally addressed the Department of Agriculture, Rural Development, and Land Reform to enquire what their plan and strategies are to address this national issue.

There is an urgent need for government intervention regarding this issue, as humans and animals could be harmed at an even greater scale.

If you become aware of cruelty to a pit bull - or any other animal for that matter - or if tensions arise and you believe that someone intends to harm a pit bull - or any other breed - please contact the Rustenburg SPCA immediately.

The Rustenburg SPCA is located at 11 Escom Street, Rustenburg.

Rustenburg – The Leopard is amongst the most graceful and elegant of all the African cats and is even a totem animal amongst the Zulu people, who call the leopard 'ingwe'. For them, the leopard symbolises all that is noble, courageous, and honourable. Rustenburg is a natural distribution area for this beautiful – yet daunting – feline, which raises the issue of what to do when you come across one of these large cats. On Monday 21 November 2022, Platinum Weekly reached out for expert advice. According to Department of Economic Development, Environment, Conservation, and Tourism (DEDECT) Bojanala Platinum District's damage-causing animal official (DCA) Vasti Botha, leopard sightings occur most commonly at night because the wild felines are nocturnal animals who prefer to hunt under the cover of darkness. Because of this, leopards are at risk of being hit by cars. Vasti reports that two leopards have been killed on the roads during the past year – one being in Lindleyspoort and the other in the Assen area. But the total could be higher as people aren't necessarily aware that they should report such an incident to the SAPS and nature conservation authorities. Evasive and shy, leopards are masters of disguise and often seamlessly blend into their natural background. The last officially confirmed leopard report was in Marikana in July of this year. It was a very old female leopard that was unfortunately killing livestock. The leopard was caught and euthanised by a veterinarian, as she was very old and had hardly any teeth left. Leopards tend to go for easier prey such as livestock when they become old, as livestock is easier prey for them. This is normally when the district's DEDECT is contacted to assist with the capture of these leopards. Leopards are also threatened by habitat loss and fragmentation which further motivates them to prey on farm livestock. Leopards naturally catch game and when farmers put up fences to protect their game, leopards learn how to use these fences to their advantage by cornering the game into the fences. Because of this, a leopard's presence can be a bit vexing to people in the farming and game industries. According to a journal by African Zoology, leopards incur substantial mortality in human-modified landscapes and generally subsist at lower densities than in protected areas (refer to <https://doi.org/10.1080/15627020.2021.2011411>, and see map, Swanepoel et al. 2013). Therefore, it is important to understand that these cats are an endangered species and that their presence on a person's property should be reported to the right authorities. The setting of traps remains a restricted activity which you need a permit for. Farmers do set traps for other species such as caracals and or jackals, and on occasion, leopards do go into these traps. In such cases, farmers are still obliged to contact the department of nature conservation. The farmer will not be in trouble, as the trap was not set specifically for the leopard. It is noteworthy to mention that wire snares are illegal and inflict a very cruel death. If such a snare is spotted, it should also be reported to the district's DEDECT. If the rare sighting of a leopard does occur on your property, there is no need to fear its presence.

Wire snares are illegal and inflict a very cruel death.

The Magaliesberg PNE study area indicates camera-trap stations (circles coloured and numbered by survey blocks). Transformed landscapes represent areas that have been highly modified by humans (coloured in red and orange; DFFE 2018) and are considered unsuitable habitats for leopards (Swanepoel et al. 2013)

The DEDECT should be contacted to assist with the capture of a leopard.

The leopard is only a threat if it exhibits unnatural behaviour like coming close to human quarters, or when livestock is taken, in which case the issue should be reported. The public is welcome to contact the department regarding any leopard issues and the department will assist the public with any other damage causing animal complaints. Contact details for the DEDECT'S Bojanala District: DCA, Vasti Botha, at 083 761 7497 or DCA, Nanti Strydom at 082 563 7763

A fresh start(er) at Mike's Kitchen

Quality time at Mike's Kitchen.

Rustenburg – Seasoned businesswoman Petra Hill has taken ownership of Mike's Kitchen and aims to restore the restaurant to its former glory of the late 80's and more. Guests at the grand reopening of Mike's Kitchen on Friday 18 November 2022, got a first-hand feel and taste of the renewed Mike's Kitchen. They were greeted into a warm and inviting atmosphere – just the kind of vibe any decent family restaurant needs. Pieter Naude added to the festivities with his rendition of several golden oldies of Neil Diamond. It didn't take much for guests to start moving their feet on the dance floor. The kids had a ball at the restaurant's safe play area, making new friends and exploring all there is to do under the watchful eye of a dedicated staff member. The VIP guests included Rustenburg Police captain Elsabé Augoustides, and the DA's shadow deputy minister of Environment, Forestry and Fisheries Cheryl Phillips.

"Augoustides and Phillips are pillars in our community. They always put our communities first, and we acknowledged them tonight for doing just that," said MC at the event, Platinum Weekly's own Myrtle Brough. The cherry on the cake was the great food, unique drinks, and friendly service. Guests enjoyed signature cocktails, decadent milkshakes, perfectly prepared steaks, flavourful curries, dangerously addictive cheesy snails, and freshly toasted sandwiches for those who opted for something lighter. Go and experience the new Mike's Kitchen for yourself!

Mike's Kitchen is located on the corner of Boekenhout and Nyl River Street, Cashan, Rustenburg.

In a one-on-one with Platinum Weekly, new owner Petra Hill said: "If you want to be successful, you can't be afraid to make waves. That is what I have been doing. And I received my fair share of criticism in the first week on social media with people talking about the service of the previous owners. It is easy to avoid criticism, just go sit in a corner and hide your light. That is not who I am. I am not going to let anything derail the plans I have for this restaurant."

The North West Department of Community Safety and Transport Management is working hand in hand with the South African Police Services (SAPS) to enhance safety on the roads.

STRENGTHENING THE ECONOMIC CORRIDOR

Rustenburg – The Trans Kalahari Corridor (TKC) is a road network spanning approximately 1,900 kilometres across the territories of Botswana, Namibia, and South Africa. It starts in the Gauteng Province, South Africa, and continues right through Botswana to the Port of Walvis Bay, Namibia. The three states together with the TKC secretariat (TKCS), the Department of Community Safety and Transport Management, and law enforcement agencies joined forces for the 11th Trans Kalahari Corridor Law Enforcement Operation. They kicked off the event on Monday 14 November 2022 with over 200 officials who gathered in Rustenburg. The first two days were dedicated to an important information-sharing session which was aimed at officials exchanging notes on challenges and agreeing on solutions that will help standardise operations. The participating agencies headed to the N4 on Wednesday 16 November 2022 where a roadblock was set up to conduct joint law enforcement operations to ensure road safety compliance by motorists on the Trans Kalahari Corridor in the North West Province. “We conduct these operations to ensure that motorists comply with the road safety rules and regulations because when our motorists travel across the border, we want to know that they are safe, and we want to extend this same courtesy to the two other countries,” said TKCS executive director Leslie Mpofu. On the first day of the roadblock, a total of 20 illegal immigrants were nabbed for failing to produce relevant documentation while 13 motorists were also charged after they were caught with expired license discs. Furthermore, 24 vehicles were assessed to establish their roadworthiness. Transportation is vital to economic development. Trade volumes have started to increase tremendously along the corridor and there is a need to achieve the transport and trade facilitation objectives and deeper regional integration. The successful joint operation concluded on 19 November 2022.

Implats gets go-ahead for RBPlat merger

Rustenburg – Having launched the offer in December 2021, Implats has to date acquired almost 41% of RBPlat, but the company intended to gain a controlling shareholding of more than 50% eventually. Implats finally secured approval from the Competition Tribunal to acquire a majority stake in RBPlats and subsequently extended the closing date of the offer to at least 15 December 2022 with an option to extend if required. Meanwhile, Northam Platinum – a competing platinum miner with a 35% shareholding in RBPlat – complicated the process to acquire control of RBPlats by announcing a firm intention to initiate a higher voluntary offer for RBPlats shares, effectively competing with Implats for acquiring the controlling interest in RBPlats. Implats offer R90 + 0.3% Impala share for each RBPlat share – effectively circa R150 per share at the current Implats share price.

The Northam proposed offer is a combination of cash and Northam shares for each RBPlat share, ultimately determined by the number of shareholders electing to take up the offer – effectively circa R170 per share at the current Northam share price. While business synergies and public interest benefits are overwhelmingly stacked in favour of Implats, Northam Platinum has clearly raised the stakes by offering on face value a higher offer consideration. Regardless, for Rustenburg and the broader North West community, changes are afoot and we can only hope that whoever wins this race to control RBPlats, do it for the right reasons and ultimately ensure that the community continues to receive the care and support it deserves as the principal stakeholder impacted by mining. Only time will tell how this eventually plays out. Implats press release extracts, November 2022

Do you know how to swim?

Yes, I know how to swim and have been enjoying it since I was little. We used to go to the beach on family vacations to enjoy the wonders of the ocean. We go back now and again to commemorate my late grandmother.

Elri Liebenberg

No, I don't know how to swim. At primary school, I received a few lessons on swimming but as the years passed and I stepped into adulthood, the lessons I learnt were lost because I never kept on swimming.

POLL

Do you feel comfortable having a bath or a shower when your partner isn't home?

One of the most re-invigorating ways to unwind and relax is to have a nice bath or shower. But some people find it difficult to spend time with the bubbles when they are alone. This is because they feel they need to be vigilant and don't want to be vulnerable in case of possible criminal activity. What is your opinion, would you feel safe enough to unwind in the tub when alone?

Make yourself heard by sending an email to news@platinumweekly.co.za or send us a WhatsApp at 081 579 7000 with the following information before 17:00 on Monday 28 November 2022:

- Yes, I feel comfortable taking a bath or a shower when my partner isn't home.

YOUR FRIDAY FUN FACT

Did you know?

Or should we ask... Did you hear? When your teenagers don't seem to listen to you, it's not that they don't hear you – their brains just aren't registering your voice in the same way they used to. According to neuroscience studies, teenagers' brains start tuning out their mothers' voices around the age of 13 as they start to find unfamiliar voices more appealing.

Determined hearts

From left: Wee Care volunteers Eurika van Schalkwyk, Sannie Joubert, and Linda Grobler are adamant to make their target of delivering 38 food hampers to struggling families.

Rustenburg – An overcast and rainy start did not deter the organisers and participants of the Wee Care Project's annual LoveRun and festival. Runners, festivalgoers, and NGOs alike refused to let a little drizzle get them down as they tied up their laces, put on their party hats, and set up their stalls on Saturday 19 November 2022 at the NG Church on the corner of Church and Unie Street.

For the past five years, Retha Nel, a volunteer and organiser, has been implementing the LoveRun Wee Care festival. The festival is a part of the Wee Care Project's initiative to support children of families who are truly struggling to make ends meet.

Each year, the LoveRun charity run serves its purpose to gather enough food to make sure that families in dire need don't go on empty stomachs during the festive season. To take part in the LoveRun, each runner donated a non-perishable food item which was added to the Wee Care December food hamper. "We were blessed with a lot of generosity," says Linda Grobler, the woman - who underneath a tree - started the project 21 years ago. "Many runners showed up with a lot more than what we had expected."

The goal of this year's Wee Care December food hamper project is to donate 38 food hampers to families whose children attend the Wee Care Preschool. The food hampers consist of items such as;

• 10 kg maize meal	• canned tomatoes and onions
• 2 kg brown sugar	• corned beef
• medium can of coffee	• jelly
• 1 kg oats	• tomato sauce
• 500 g pasta	• soap
• 750 ml cooking oil	• 1 kg washing powder
• 400 g peanut butter	• 2, 5 dozen eggs
• canned fruit salad	• 1 kg margarine
• canned vegetables	• 800 g milk powder

It costs about R1,000 to put such a food hamper together, but Linda is hopeful. "The families will come and collect their food hampers around the 15th of December, and because Christmas is around the corner, we would like to add something nice like biscuits or any other sweet treats—after all, every child deserves something special on Christmas."

Added to this, it is evident that the volunteers at the Wee Care Preschool not only want their kids to survive, but also to thrive. "It's not just about giving them the basics. We want to make sure that our kids stand a chance in a difficult world. After our kids leave, we often get updates from thankful parents; many of our kids move on to get distinctions and leadership roles in their higher grades."

But despite Linda's unfailing optimism – and the hard work of the school's current volunteers – there are still challenges at hand. Volunteers at the Wee Care Preschool give children an educational foundation at no charge. This means that the school survives solely on the charity of its volunteers who give their time freely. "We are always in need of volunteers," adds Linda. "To volunteer would mean that you would help out for three hours a week, and you get to choose which day (Mon-Fri) suits you best. We provide the training and material."

Aside from volunteers, the school also needs fuel sponsors. The Wee Care Preschool hires a bus to collect the children at designated spots, and paying for its fuel is a permanent struggle which often costs more than R9,000 pm. To make this happen, the school depends on sponsors who are willing to sponsor a child at R350 pm for a year.

Notwithstanding their problems, the Wee Care organisers also gave other local non-profit organisations a chance to come together and join this year's festival which gave them the chance to use the festival as an awareness platform. NGOs opened up to the public and gave people the opportunity to ask questions—and even perhaps volunteer.

Fundraising was also part of the day's pulse. Non-runners paid an entry fee of R30 towards a lucky draw, which offered a bunch of amazing getaway prizes! The funds that were collected for the lucky draw were ultimately donated and distributed amongst the many NGOs such as Route 41, SOS Children's Village, and Care 2B Kind—to name but a few.

While important agendas were being addressed, festivalgoers also got the chance to enjoy delicious options from the many food stalls and were treated to a lot of playful entertainment activities. Local schools added a kaleidoscope of colour to the festival as their kids dressed up for the occasion and put their best dancing feet forward with their performances. Other activities like netball games and a modelling competition added to the abundantly fun atmosphere while musicians such as Louis Geldenhuys, Angel de Lange, Mari Minnaar, and Piere du Preez kept the energy at an awesome pace.

With so much on the plate, it can definitely be said that the volunteers and organisers of the Wee Care Project once again gave it their all to fill the hearts and tummies of the many little people they pour their souls into.

To lend a helping hand, or to sponsor this determined and heartfelt cause, contact Linda Grobler at 083 292 5654, or Retha Nel at 083 651 2856.

Keitumetse Moemane, a permanent volunteer at the SOS Children's Village, proudly completed the LoveRun.

Marna van der Walt's kids, Klara and Tinus, who go to Huppelhoekie Preschool, we're excited to participate in their school's performances.

An expensive ride

[Letter to the editor]

Rustenburg – I'm going to be honest – as honesty seems to be a shortage in this world – I don't know much about cars, and unfortunately, my lack of mechanical knowledge has ripped my pocket and left me vulnerable. I recently took my car in for a service and was unpleasantly surprised with the outcome. I'm a single mom and provide for my family with a single income. My car helps me earn my bread and butter. Sadly, its service plan had expired, and I knew that it was time to take it in for a service to have all its vitals checked at a local company. Understand, there was nothing wrong with my car. I simply wanted to make sure that everything was in order. Barely three days after getting it back from its supposed service, my car started giving all kinds of hiccups. At first, I thought, "This is to be expected, after all, it's not the latest model."

I took it back to the service garage, but shortly after driving it out of its 'second service' its problems started all over again. I then took it to another service garage which cost me more money. To date, I have spent R30,000—and I still don't have a working vehicle!

Frustrated and drowning in bills, I showed my dad all the invoices and asked him to have a closer look. My dad inspected the car and disappointedly pointed out that not even its plugs had been replaced in its initial service!

After speaking to my friends and relaying the story of my bumpy ride, they mentioned that they knew of many people who had experienced similar issues with the very same service garage! I feel helpless, and I must ask myself, "Did they damage my car on purpose to line their pockets with my comebacks?" I know that according to the law I can't mention the company in question, but I am very disheartened. How can anyone sleep at night knowing that they are essentially robbing people who work hard for their money?

And what other safe alternatives are there for people who can't afford to renew their service plans? Sadly, it seems that we are at the mercy of thieves!

Supporting ambitious athletes

Kanana – Kutlwano Setuke, a 15-year-old aspiring athlete, has been running since he was in Grade 4 and has taken many podium finishes in 100 m races.

Kutlwano's father, Tshepiso Setuke, is not just his biggest supporter but also his trainer. "I was also a runner from a young age, so I train my son. As his father, I will do everything I can to help him reach his full potential," Tshepiso said.

Together they train for at least two hours every day from Monday to Saturday. The races he competes in are mostly school competitions and he hopes to reap the gold medals and take his school to new heights in athletics next year.

Unfortunately, like many rural schools, his school has limited resources and growing his athletic career has proved to be a challenge despite his talents. Athletics clubs are a good way for other athletes with limited competing opportunities to showcase their talents but to excel they will need sponsors who are willing to assist them with expenses like membership fees, shoes, club uniforms, and entrance fees—just to name a few.

If you would like to help Kutlwano to reach his full potential, you can contact his father Tshepiso at 078 961 7851.

Other athletes who are looking into joining clubs where they can compete and show their capabilities, can contact the following clubs for more information:

- Protea Athletics Club – 082 386 2669
- Royal Bafokeng Athletics Club – 014 573 4756

IMPALA RUGBY IN SEARCH OF SPONSORS

Rustenburg – The Impala Rugby Club is calling on more businesses in Rustenburg to come on board and support them as sponsors. because it will give us a very good chance at winning the Leopards League," said Engelbrecht, "We already have Lazer Communication as our lead sponsor and we urge more businesses to contact us if they would like to benefit from being associated with the club." Engelbrecht also invites young players to join their club. "We will also have an u/21 group that will be trained by our coaches and we believe this will help to strengthen the player base." Die Ierse losvoorspeler, Josh van der Flier, is aangewys as die beste rugbyspeler van 2022. Die puik speler verdien die toekenning by verre. Soms moet die sooibrand nuus ook gedeel word. Die SA "A" span verloor hulle twee games op hulle toer. Die Bokke se naasbestes, soos hulle bestempel word, was lomp en pateties, finish en klaar! Hulle verloor teen 'n verswakte Muster span, 28-14, en volg dit op met nog 'n 26-18 nederlaag teen die Bristol Bears 'n week daarna.

PSL BREAK GOOD OR BAD?

Mamelodi Sundowns coach Rulani Mokwena. Image: Mamelodi Sundowns Facebook.

SA – The South African Premier Soccer League (PSL) will only resume on 31 December 2022 when the curtain has come down on the FIFA World Cup. All the local players and their coaches, as well as the rest of the football world will be keenly following the action in Qatar – game by game. PSL coaches, like Mamelodi Sundowns' Rulani Mokwena will probably welcome the brief break as it will give some of the injured players – like star striker Peter Shalulile – a chance to recover to full fitness. The Sundowns marksman, who has not been part of any of the team's matches, has returned to moderate training after undergoing an operation. Many other clubs will also be hoping their injured players bounce back to full fitness ahead of the resumption of the league title chase at the end of December. For a lot of teams, however, the PSL break is an unwelcome distraction that could make it difficult for them to find their momentum when the games resume.
