‘Not enough money’
changes SEX to RAPE

Rustenburg – As a longtime resident of Rustenburg, I have witnessed the changing social landscape of our community and the challenges we face. However, nothing has troubled me more recently than an experience that has shaken my family to its core, and it is my hope that by sharing this ordeal, other young men and their families can be more aware and prepared when facing similar circumstances.

My cousin, who is in his early twenties, is a bright, hardworking young man. He has always been sociable, making a name for himself through his achievements in college and his efforts to make ends meet with side jobs while studying. Recently, however, he found himself caught up in a terrifying and unfair situation that could have destroyed his life, and which still gives him nightmares.

Two weeks ago, his ex-girlfriend contacted him on WhatsApp, claiming to be pregnant and demanding money. Shocked, my cousin — who was not working full time but helping out as a waiter — agreed to help, offering her what he could at the time: a few hundred rand. The second shock came a few days later when my cousin was arrested by the police, accused of rape. Despite his protests and presenting the evidence on his phone — including WhatsApp conversations with his ex-girlfriend, showing that it was she who had initiated the financial request — he was detained at the local police station for four nights. Even when his ex-girlfriend later withdrew the accusation at the police, they insisted that the case had to go to court before he could be released. This meant that he spent four days in jail for a crime he did not commit.

While I appreciate the efforts of law enforcers to ensure justice in cases of rape, this situation raises serious concerns about the rights of someone falsely accused, who can immediately provide evidence of their innocence. I have also heard about other false rape accusations in Rustenburg. It seems as if accusations of rape are becoming a trend in Rustenburg, where some women, when dissatisfied or upset, might resort to using this serious charge as a weapon to get what they want.

My cousin was arrested, his name tarnished, and his future put at risk, all because of an accusation made without any solid evidence.

I ask: why did my cousin have to stand accused until his accuser refuted the claims in court, even though he could immediately show proof about their recent relationship and that he was corresponding with her about a financial contribution towards her pregnancy? What would have happened if she did not retract her statement? Would his evidence have been taken into account then? If so, why only then?... why put him through hell first? What are the consequences for the woman who made the false claims and later admitted to it?

It's terrifying to think that anyone, especially young men, can so easily be falsely accused of such a serious crime. And for what? A few hundred rand?

This experience is a warning to all young men out there. It is critical to keep track of all communications and to always have evidence when dealing with sensitive situations. If you are ever in a similar situation, make sure you have proof — whether through WhatsApp messages or other means — of your interactions and agreements. This could be the difference between freedom and imprisonment.

Rape is an incredibly serious crime, and those who commit it must be held accountable. But we must also protect innocent men who are falsely accused. My cousin's name has been ruined, and his reputation damaged, despite the fact that he has done nothing wrong. He now faces a future with a cloud of suspicion hanging over him. This is not just unfair; it is terrifying.

I urge the law enforcers to review how such cases are handled. More needs to be done to protect the innocent and ensure that accusations are thoroughly investigated before someone's life is destroyed. We cannot allow our young men to live in fear of a false accusation could land them in prison for a crime they did not commit.

FAKE R200 NOTES CIRCULATING

[letter to the editor]

Rustenburg – Last week, I went to a popular local store to buy a few groceries, paying in cash. When I handed over a R200 note, the cashier scanned it to check if it was genuine. This caught me off guard, so I asked her about it. She explained that they frequently check R200 notes due to an increase in counterfeit bills circulating. This was a bit concerning, as I had withdrawn the money from my bank's ATM. Luckily, my note was verified as genuine. I asked if counterfeit R200 notes were becoming a big issue, and she confirmed it's happening often, even mentioning a specific bank's ATMs as a common source (though I won't name the bank here). The store manager also advised me not to mention the store's name, but he confirmed that fake R200 notes are indeed on the rise, especially now in the lead-up to the holiday season. So, to everyone in our Rustenburg community, be cautious with R200 notes – counterfeits seem to be making their rounds again! #StayAlert!

Rustenburg CIT heist, one suspect arrested

Rustenburg – In an incident underscoring the surge in cash-in-transit (CIT) crimes, a robbery unfolded on the R104 near Kroondal, Rustenburg. The heist, which took place around 17:30 on Monday, 11 November 2024, involved multiple armed suspects who forced a cash transport vehicle off the road and ignited it in a fiery explosion before fleeing with an undisclosed amount of cash. According to colonel Adèle Myburgh, the attack began when a white Mercedes Benz rammed into the security vehicle, pushing it off course. Despite the driver's attempts to evade, shots rang out, forcing him and his colleague to abandon the vehicle. Both security officers were uninjured, though they were swiftly overpowered by the suspects, who took their 9mm firearms before setting explosives in the cash van. The explosion, which sent smoke billowing into the sky, drew a crowd from surrounding areas, with some attempting to grab the scattered cash. "I heard faint gunshots at first, but then the sound intensified," recounted one eyewitness who had been closing his shop nearby. "Then came a loud explosion, followed by a smaller one. I saw smoke and flames, and soon people gathered. Cars nearby quickly turned around to avoid the chaos." In a swift response following the heist, police intelligence led officers to an address in Kagiso, near Krugersdorp, where they confiscated a Toyota Quantum believed to be linked to the transport of suspects. By early Tuesday morning, a suspect — a woman in her 40s — was apprehended in Tlhabane. The arrest also yielded two more vehicles — a Toyota bakkie reported stolen in Bloemfontein and a Volkswagen Tiguan hijacked in Boitekong. Both vehicles are believed to have played a role in the heist. Lieutenant general Sello Kwena, provincial police commissioner, praised the operation's multidisciplinary approach, which swiftly led to the arrest. He also urged community members to avoid tampering with crime scenes, stressing the importance of maintaining scene integrity for investigators. The suspect is expected to appear in Rustenburg Magistrates' Court soon. Authorities are appealing to anyone with information to contact captain Mollo Kgekoane of the Directorate for Priority Crime Investigation (DPCI) at 082 338 3140.

MOTORIST AMBUSHED AND SHOT IN N4 TRAP NEAR BRITS

Brits – A man traveling from Rustenburg to Pretoria found himself in a life-threatening situation on the N4 near Brits and De Wildt. South African Police Services (SAPS) colonel Adel Myburgh confirmed that on Friday night, 8 November 2024, at approximately 20:30, he encountered a rock barricade deliberately placed by robbers, causing his vehicle's tire to blow out. After driving a short distance, he pulled over to change the damaged tire, but his night quickly took a dangerous turn. While in the midst of changing his tire, four armed assailants emerged from behind him and began shooting without warning. With a tire iron still in hand, the man attempted to flee but was chased down by two of the attackers. In a desperate act of self-defence, he managed to strike one of his assailants with the tire iron. Tragically, one of the other attackers responded by shooting him in the chest.

Although severely injured, the man continued to flee, attempting to wave down passing vehicles for help. Unfortunately, motorists passed by without stopping. Members of the local Community Policing Forum discovered the man, bloodied and desperate, on the side of the highway. SAPS officers and emergency services responded promptly, and due to the critical nature of his injuries, the man was airlifted by emergency helicopter to a Johannesburg hospital. A drone search of the nearby area led police to apprehend two suspects. The victim sustained severe injuries, including a shattered shoulder, nerve damage, and fractured ribs. He has since undergone surgery, and doctors will determine whether additional procedures are needed to repair nerve damage.

Zama Zamas face pressure to resurface amid police operation

Stilfontein – "The Operation Vala Umgodi task team in North West continues to call upon those illegal miners, who are still underground in the Stilfontein area, to return to the surface," said brigadier Sabata Mokgwabone. The SAPS and SANDF have allowed for the delivery of water and food to those underground to ensure they can safely resurface. Police and other safety officials will remain on-site until all illegal miners resurface and are apprehended. The SAPS urges these illegal miners to come to the surface so they can receive necessary assistance, including medical attention if needed. The community is asked to allow the police the space required to perform their duties, as the SAPS is committed to preventing criminality from thriving. To date, more than 1,000 individuals have come to the surface from illegal mining activities as part of Operation Vala Umgodi, and efforts continue to ensure the safe resurfacing of those who remain underground.

#Rusiekoor se Gala-aand skitter!

Die Rusties se koor span saam vir 'n laaste, onvergeetlike uitvoering terwyl die matrieks van 2024 afskeid neem en die nuwe koorkomitee aangekondig word.

Rustenburg – Met groot trots kyk ons terug op die onvergeetlike Rustenburg Hoërskool Koor-Gala-aand wat op Woensdag, 23 Oktober 2024 plaasgevind het – 'n aand waar die passie vir musiek en samesyn tot sy reg gekom het. Ons Rusties se koor het hierdie jaar keer op keer uitmuntend presteer, en hierdie spesiale aand was die kersie op die koek.

Die aand was egter ook vol emosie, want ons het afskeid geneem van die matrieks van 2024 – 'n groep wat ons koor met soveel toewyding en energie verryk het. Met elke noot en elke harmonie het hulle ons opnuut trots gemaak op ons skool en die ongelooflike talent wat hier gebore word.

Tydens die gala-aand is die nuwe koorkomitee vir 2025 aangekondig, en ons sien uit na nóg 'n suksesvolle jaar. Die voorsitters vir volgende jaar is Derik Visser en Suryke van Schalkwyk, met die bekwame lede Duan Robbette, Owen Paxton, Lynette Prinsloo, Kayla Potgieter, Chloë Erasmus, en Katya Swanepoel aan hulle sy. Hierdie dinamiese span het groot planne vir die koor, en ons is opgewonde om te sien hoe hulle 'n nuwe era van musiek by die Rusties lei.

FUN FACT

Did you know?

In South Africa, carrying a knuckle duster could land you in hot water! According to the Dangerous Weapons Act of 2013, knuckle dusters are classified as "dangerous weapons" due to their potential to cause serious harm. Possessing, carrying, or using one without lawful reason is strictly prohibited. This law promotes public safety by regulating weapons designed for combat rather than utility. So, while it may look cool in movies, in real life, knuckle dusters are a no-go. Stick to safer accessories and stay on the right side of the law!

HAVE YOUR SAY

Is the service offered at your local clinic or hospital up to an acceptable standard?

Community healthcare standards can directly impact our well-being. Share your thoughts on whether your local clinic or hospital meets expectations in terms of care quality, wait times, and cleanliness. Your feedback can help highlight areas needing improvement or celebrate what's working well!

No, the wait times are terrible. Even if you arrive early at the clinic, you often end up waiting more than four hours to be seen. It would be much better if the government could address this by hiring more staff, as the long waiting periods seem to be largely due to understaffing. Improving this would make a big difference for patients. Nonhlanhla Mampone, Marikana

Yes, the service was up to standard. During a recent visit to Peglerae Hospital for my husband's operation, we found the staff to be friendly, and the facility was clean and well-maintained. Lindi Ferreira, Rustenburg
