The holiday season is in full swing, and as the community comes together to celebrate, we at Platinum Weekly would like to extend our heartfelt wishes to all our readers. Whether you're heading off on vacation or staying home, we hope you have a merry and blessed Christmas filled with safety, cherished memories, and abundant blessings.

Rustenburg Community Unites in Prayer for Rain

Community members gathered at Rustenburg Impala Rugby Club, forming a circle and holding hands in a heartfelt prayer for rain and unity.

Rustenburg – In a heartfelt display of unity and faith, approximately 40 members of the Rustenburg community gathered at the Impala Rugby Club on Sunday, 8 December 2024, at 17:30 to pray for rain. The event was organised by Sandy Webb, founder of Rise Up Rustenburg. “I woke up that morning with the Holy Spirit urging me to organise a prayer session,” said Webb. “We needed to pray for rain, our farmers, our neighbours, our loved ones, and for our town.” Despite being organised on short notice, the prayer initiative drew a diverse group of participants. The Community Police Forum (CPF) Sector 1 and its executive committee were present to ensure the safety of attendees. “It was truly amazing to see how we, as a rainbow nation, could stand together, join hands, and pray for rain,” said CPF sector 1 chairperson, Corne van der Byl.

NEWBORN FOUND DUMPED IN RIVER

Rustenburg – A tragic discovery was made on Tuesday, 17 December 2024. The lifeless body of a newborn baby girl was found discarded in a filthy river near Reutwile, an informal settlement near the R510. The shocking find was made by a passerby around 13:00, who immediately alerted authorities. Adding to the horror of the discovery, the baby girl was wrapped in a plastic bag and submerged in the dirty water.

This is no ordinary river. It is choked with sewage, reeking of decay, and littered with heaps of rotting rubbish. The stench was overwhelming, and the water's surface was a tragic mix of filth and debris. When the police arrived, curious onlookers from the community gathered, drawn by the flashing lights and the unfolding tragedy.

The baby's body, concealed in the plastic bag, was barely recognisable. Decomposed and mingled with the trash, it was almost impossible to discern that this was once a tiny, fragile life. One onlooker remarked with anguish, "It was heartbreaking; you couldn't even tell it was a baby at first."

The discovery has sparked outrage and sorrow among residents. DA councillor Luan Snyders added, "The baby's body had begun to decompose, worsened by the extreme heat of the South African sun."

The thought of what the baby's final moments might have been is haunting. Did she breathe for even a second, only to be thrust into this horrifying world — a world that discarded her like rubbish?

Police spokesperson, colonel Adele Myburgh, confirmed the tragic incident. "It is a newborn baby girl. The identities of both the mother and the child remain unknown at this time. The cause of death will be determined through a post-mortem examination."

Myburgh urged anyone with information to contact warrant officer Richardt Mokgongwane from the Tlhabane Detective Unit at 082 416 1658.

DON'T DUMP YOUR BABY

THERE ARE OTHER OPTIONS

While the circumstances leading to the abandonment are unclear, child welfare organisations stress that help is available for struggling mothers.

Deidre Janse van Vuuren, manager of Rustenburg Child and Family Welfare, emphasised, “Women need to know that there are alternatives available to them. Social workers provide counselling, support during pregnancy, and assistance with adoption processes without judgement.”

Helen Lotz, director of Mōrester Children’s Home, shared her heartbreak over the incident. “My heart breaks every time I hear of a dumped baby. Even if a baby is born at home and you decide not to keep it, you can still go to the hospital and speak to a social worker," she said. Lotz also noted that in cases of stillbirth, it's crucial to contact a doctor to declare the baby's death and follow proper procedures. "If you did nothing wrong, there is nothing to fear," she reassured.

Abandoning a baby without seeking help is a criminal offence. Mothers face charges of concealment of birth, and police use DNA testing to identify and prosecute those responsible. Using the correct channels not only gives the baby a chance at life but also ensures the mother's health and legal protection.

Child abandonment: a national crisis

Specialist investigator into Serious Violent, Serious Economic Crimes & Serious Cybercrimes, Mike Bolhuis highlighted the underlying issues contributing to baby abandonment in South Africa. "Teenage pregnancies are a significant factor, with nearly one in four girls falling pregnant before the age of 20. Many young mothers lack financial independence, support, or maturity to care for a child," he explained. He added: "In South Africa in 2022/23, approximately 150,000 pregnancies were recorded among girls aged 10 to 19, some involving statutory rape."

Legal consequences of abandonment

Abandoning a baby is a serious criminal offence in South Africa. If the child dies or is harmed due to neglect, the mother can face charges of murder, culpable homicide, or violations under the Children's Act.

Alternatives and support

For mothers in distress, several organisations are ready to help:

- Rustenburg Child and Family Welfare: 014 537 2014 or 2072

This tragedy serves as a stark reminder of the vulnerability of newborns and the desperate situations faced by some mothers. The community and authorities urge anyone facing an unplanned pregnancy to seek help rather than abandon their baby.

COMMUNITY AND POLICE COLLABORATION FOILS ROBBERY, SIX SUSPECTS ARRESTED

Rustenburg – Collaborative efforts by vigilant community members, a private security company, and the police have led to the arrest of five men and a woman for business robbery in Luka, near Phokeng.

The accused — Orphan Pokane (25), Bohlakwa Molapo (23), Pitso Makhoane (34), Peter Fuzani (42), Makabelo Maboe (38), and Johannes Hlabanelo (50) — were apprehended on Tuesday morning, 10 December 2024.

Brigadier Sabata Mokgwabone detailed how the arrest followed an incident where four armed men stormed a local shop, forced the shopkeeper to lie face down, and looted cash, cellphones, and cigarettes. The suspects then locked the shopkeeper inside before fleeing in a silver-grey Ford Figo.

In a dramatic twist, the shopkeeper escaped through an unlocked back door, alerted a colleague, and, along with a quick-thinking citizen, pursued the robbers. The chase ended in a cul-de-sac, where the suspects abandoned their vehicle and attempted to flee on foot. Swift action from the Royal Bafokeng Reaction Force and local police ensured their arrest.

The accused appeared before the Bafokeng Magistrates' Court on Thursday, 12 December 2024, where they were remanded in custody. Their next court date is set for Wednesday, 15 January 2025. Police investigations are ongoing, with a possibility of linking the suspects to other criminal activities.

Lieutenant general Sello Kwenja, provincial police commissioner, commended the cooperative efforts of all involved parties, emphasising the importance of such partnerships in ensuring community safety.

Cellphones recovered from the suspects after the robbery.

Cigarettes seized as part of the stolen goods recovered.

Sibanye-Stillwater in partnership with the Wits Business School (WBS), the Department of Cooperative Governance and Traditional Affairs and Shakeshems launched a capacity building programme for Traditional Authorities.

Several of Sibanye-Stillwaters' South African operations are on land leased from traditional entities. The four-day short course on corporate governance has bolstered Traditional Authorities' capacity in record keeping and financial management and strengthened decision-making structures to ensure the long-term sustainability of Traditional Authorities.

At the launch of the programme, Deputy Minister of Traditional Affairs, Hon. Zolile Burns-Ncamashe, welcomed the public-private partnership and indicated that the programme will enable traditional leaders to negotiate value-adding benefits for their respective communities.

Sibanye-Stillwater promotes cancer awareness

Sibanye-Stillwater proudly supported Pink Power Breast Cancer Awareness by running a comprehensive awareness campaign across all its operations in the South African region. The programme was designed to educate and engage communities and featured informative talks, free mammograms, and candlelight vigils honouring victims and survivors of breast cancer.

In a proactive move to fundraise and support local healthcare, Sibanye-Stillwater also launched a Cancer Car Wash initiative, which successfully collected donations for the cancer unit at Charlotte Maxeke Hospital.

Additionally, Sibanye-Stillwater partnered with South African football legends to host matches aimed at raising awareness about men's health, particularly focusing on cancer.

In a spirited showdown, the Sibanye-Stillwater masters beat the legends with a score of 5-2, further emphasising the importance of community involvement in health initiatives. The overarching message of the campaign was clear: early detection is key to beating cancer. As the Company encouraged participation in November, it calls on everyone to unite in the fight against cancer and ensure that we save our brothers.

Creepy guys at the gym

A friend of mine recently had a deeply troubling experience at a gym in Rustenburg, which I feel needs to be shared to raise awareness about unacceptable behaviour in public spaces. While working out at the gym, my friend noticed a man covertly filming a woman in front of him by propping his phone on the gym equipment. After recording, he stopped, showed the video to his friend, and the two whispered and laughed. Shockingly, one of them even boasted about getting sexually aroused. When they realised my friend was watching them, they quickly put the phone away and moved to the steps nearby to continue viewing the footage. My friend, furious and protective, immediately informed the woman about what had happened. She confronted the two men and demanded they delete the video. The woman signalled to my friend that she managed to get them to delete the footage, but the entire experience left her visibly shaken. After the men eventually left, the woman also left the gym, looking distraught. Unfortunately, this was the last time my friend saw her at the gym. What's even more frustrating is the indifferent response from the gym staff. My friend reported the incident, but there was no visible action taken against the perpetrators. The staff did not approach or reprimand the men, which raises serious concerns about the gym's commitment to providing a safe and supportive environment for its patrons. To everyone who goes to the gym, please stay vigilant. Watch out for individuals who may try to exploit these shared spaces for their disgusting behaviour. And to gym management everywhere: step up your game. Establish and enforce strict policies against harassment and predatory behaviour. Your members deserve to feel protected and respected.

Sincerely,

Fields College hosts Festive Carols Market 2024 in support of Rustenburg SPCA

Rustenburg – Fields College recently celebrated the success of its annual Festive Carols Market, a cherished tradition organised by the Intermediate Phase. This year, the event was elevated by the enthusiastic participation of educators from other phases, administrative staff, and RCLE learners, who all came together to ensure its success. The highlight of this festive gathering was its heartfelt purpose: to support the Rustenburg SPCA. The handover of proceeds took place on Monday 2 December 2024, marking the culmination of a dedicated effort to raise funds for animal welfare. An impressive total of R55,795.40 was collected through the event, showcasing the generosity of the Fields College community and its supporters.

Where the funds went:

- MBT Petrol: R15,000.00
- Pet Passion: R4,412.00
- Bergbos Vet: R36,383.40

The allocation of funds was done in consultation with the SPCA, ensuring the money would have the most significant impact. "We asked the SPCA where we could assist with payments," explained the event organisers. "They identified vet costs, petrol, and pet passion as priority areas." Amanda Coetzee, principal of Fields College, along with other staff members, personally handed over the donation to Suenell van der Walt, a committee member from the SPCA. Expressing her gratitude, Van Der Walt remarked, "We work in a radius of 200 km, and this will help incredibly with animals that are in need, allowing us to pick up, address complaints, and rescue animals during this festive season."

Fields College community's efforts highlight their commitment to making a difference beyond the classroom.

HAVE YOUR SAY

Do you think dreams can predict the future?

Throughout history, people have believed dreams hold clues to future events. While some see them as mere coincidences or subconscious thoughts, others find meaning in it. What do you think?

Yes, it comes down to belief — dreams can indeed predict the future. This question takes us back to our diverse cultural roots, where many traditions hold that dreams carry deeper meaning. Some dreams serve as warnings, revealing events that may unfold in the next few days, while others bring messages of joy and anticipation for good things to come. Lerato Mwale, Rustenburg

No, I don't believe dreams can predict the future. While they are often interpreted as glimpses of what's to come, there's no scientific evidence to support this idea. Dreams are largely a product of our subconscious mind, processing information and experiences from our daily lives. They are shaped by our emotions, memories, and recent events, rather than serving as a window into the future. Johan van der Westhuizen

PSALM 5 - A Prayer for Guidance

To the Chief Musician. With flutes. A Psalm of David.

1 Give ear to my words, O Lord, Consider my meditation.
2 Give heed to the voice of my cry, My King and my God, For to You I will pray.
3 My voice You shall hear in the morning, O Lord; In the morning I will direct it to You, And I will look up.

4 For You are not a God who takes pleasure in wickedness, Nor shall evil dwell with You.
5 The boastful shall not stand in Your sight; You hate all workers of iniquity.
6 You shall destroy those who speak falsehood; The Lord abhors the bloodthirsty and deceitful man.

7 But as for me, I will come into Your house in the multitude of Your mercy; In fear of You I will worship toward Your holy temple.

8 Lead me, O Lord, in Your righteousness because of my enemies; Make Your way straight before my face.

9 For there is no faithfulness in their mouth; Their inward part is destruction; Their throat is an open tomb; They flatter with their tongue.
10 Pronounce them guilty, O God! Let them fall by their own counsels; Cast them out in the multitude of their transgressions, For they have rebelled against You.

11 But let all those rejoice who put their trust in You; Let them ever shout for joy, because You [f]defend them; Let those also who love Your name Be joyful in You.
12 For You, O Lord, will bless the righteous; With favor You will surround him as with a shield.

FUN FACT

Did you know?

Did Coca-Cola invent Santa's red suit? Not quite — but they certainly made it iconic! Before the 1930s, Santa wore all sorts of colours, including green and brown. Then, Coca-Cola hired artist Haddon Sundblom to create jolly St. Nick ads in their brand's red and white. These cheerful depictions, starting in 1931, skyrocketed the red-suited Santa to worldwide fame. Though Santa's crimson coat appeared earlier, Coca-Cola's campaigns made it the standard. So next time you spot Santa, raise a glass of Coke — he's got a little fizz in his festive history!
