Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg

– George and Wilma Koster were shot dead in broad daylight in the parking area of Platinum Square Shopping Centre on Saturday, 14 June 2025. More than a year later, the verdict has left their family devastated and Rustenburg residents questioning how the court reached its decision.

On Tuesday, 22 September 2026, Judge Tebogo Djaje acquitted Onke Bongo of murdering the couple. Acquitted means he was found not guilty of those charges. Bongo did not deny shooting George and Wilma. The court accepted his account that he acted in self-defence when he shot the unarmed George Koster (69) and also found that he acted in self-defence when he shot Wilma Koster (65), who after her husband was shot, stormed their car with a knobkerrie, trying to protect her husband. The State disputed that account. A witness testified that Bongo shot George first and then Wilma, who had approached with a knobkerrie. Bongo maintained that he feared for his life. The shooting followed a confrontation after the door of a parked Kia struck the Kosters' vehicle. For months, residents have asked to see the CCTV footage from the parking area. Platinum Weekly raised that concern in its earlier coverage.

KOSTER
SHOOTING:
murder acquittal,
suspended sentences for fleeing the scene of the incident

What led to this judgement

Two lives lost in broad daylight.

We still want to know: was the footage shown in court, what did it show, and can it lawfully be made available to the public?

The full court reasons would also help the community understand how the judge weighed the conflicting accounts. Bongo and Gift Mhlanga were both convicted of defeating the ends of justice for their actions after the shooting. Each received a five-year prison sentence, wholly suspended for five years. Neither received any jailtime. The suspended sentence may be put into effect if they commit a similar offence during the suspension period. Mhlanga did not face murder charges.

The Kosters' daughter, Jacqueline Engelbrecht, said after the verdict that she was angry and bitterly disappointed. Earlier this year, as the family endured repeated court delays, she told Platinum Weekly: "It has been incredibly overwhelming."

The prosecutor said the State would study the court record and consider an appeal. No appeal decision has been announced.

At the time of going to print the court record was not yet made available. A verdict was delivered. The family's loss remains, and the public needs to understand the evidence and how it formed the decision.

Our Ward Matters
tackles overgrowth, illegal dumping and
road-safety concerns
across Rustenburg

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – Our Ward Matters (OWM) continued its work across Rustenburg, addressing overgrown vegetation, litter, illegal dumping and public-safety concerns while encouraging residents to take pride in their surroundings. Founded by Ward 15 councillor André van Dyk and led by Cllr Van Dyk and Cllr Tanya Rothman, the initiative remains active in Wards 15, 16 and 17.

Clearing the way along Helen Joseph
On Monday, 14 September, the team continued working along Helen Joseph Street, clearing overgrown grass from road islands and verges between Kock Street and Arend Road. Illegal dumping and refuse bags near BP Safari remain a concern. OWM urged residents and businesses to help protect cleaned areas and dispose of waste responsibly.

Hard work delivers visible results
On Tuesday, 15 September, work continued on both sides of Helen Joseph Street, including the road island at Arend Road and the nearby open space. The team cleared overgrowth around BP Safari and McDonald's, removed stubborn weeds from roads and pavements, and cleaned the area thoroughly. OWM emphasised that consistent maintenance requires time, physical effort and community support.

Fresh paint for safer streets
On Wednesday, 16 September, OWM and Cllr Tanya Rothman restored streetlight poles, road signs and STOP signs in the Cuckoo, Rivers, Bokmakierie and Helen Joseph areas. Rust was removed, surfaces were cleaned and fresh paint was applied to improve appearance and visibility. OWM thanked The Paint Palette for supplying quality paint and supporting the project.

Professionalism in every detail
On Monday, 21 September, teams worked at the Raasblaar Triangle and around the Koorsboom Substation. Grass, soil and debris that had spread into the roads were removed by hand, while stormwater drains were cleared and opened. A large amount of sand and loose stone was also removed from a STOP street, reducing a potential danger to motorists.

The Our Ward Matters team continued clearing overgrowth and restoring public spaces during the Helen Joseph Project on Tuesday, 15 September.

THE CLUE YOU TOUCH... COULD BE THE CLUE POLICE NEED

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg

– A fingerprint on a door or DNA left at a crime scene could help police identify a suspect. SAPS in Bojanala Platinum Sub-District 2 is urging residents to help protect that evidence. Warrant officer Ofentse Mokgadi said people should avoid touching or moving objects at a crime scene until the Local Criminal Record Centre has examined the area and collected possible evidence. Residents are also asked to cooperate with the first officers on the scene, detectives and forensic personnel. Preserving a scene gives investigators the best chance of finding clues that could help bring an offender to justice.

Three in court over R1.3 million in alleged municipal losses

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – Three people appeared in the Rustenburg Magistrates' Court on Tuesday, 22 September 2026, on charges of fraud, money laundering and theft linked to the Bojanala Platinum District Municipality.

According to Hawks spokesperson warrant officer Nkosinathi Ndlovu, a municipal audit revealed that more than R1.3 million had allegedly been transferred from the municipality's bank account without authorisation or supporting documents.

The matter was referred to the Hawks' Serious Corruption Investigation unit. Vincent Mkhwanazi (38), Sibusiso Kunene (44) and Thembeke Zukula (44) were arrested on Sunday, 20 September. Each was granted bail of R1,000. The case was postponed to 30 November 2026 to allow for the arrest of additional accused. The allegations have yet to be tested in court.

The suspects face charges including conspiracy to commit business robbery, eight counts of attempted murder, possession of unlicensed firearms and ammunition, malicious damage to property and defeating the ends of justice.

They appeared in the Rustenburg Magistrates' Court on Monday, 21 September. No court outcome was supplied. North West provincial commissioner lieutenant general Arthur Peter Adams praised the teams involved for their coordinated response.

H-2A: Die mense agter dié wat oorsee gaan werk

Platinum Weekly koerant – Vir baie Suid-Afrikaanse landbougesinne het die H-2A-program 'n belangrike deel van hul lewens geword. H-2A is die Amerikaanse visumklassifikasie vir tydelike of seisoenale landbouwerkers. Agter elke persoon wat tasse pak om op 'n plaas in Amerika te gaan werk, staan daar egter 'n eggenoot, kinders, ouers en 'n hele gesin wat saam die opoffering dra. Die program bied Suid-Afrikaners die geleentheid om 'n beter inkomste te verdien, waardevolle ondervinding op te doen en finansiëel vir hul gesinne te sorg. Maar die prys wat daarvoor betaal word, is tyd – kosbare tyd wat nie saam met geliefdes deurgebring kan word nie. Sommige H-2A-werkers bring etlike maande op 'n slag in Amerika deur. Dit beteken dat 'n pa nie noodwendig deel is van sy kinders se alledaagse lewe nie – skoolgeleenthede, verjaarsdae, sportdae, familiebyeenkomste en al die klein oomblikke wat 'n mens maklik as vanselfsprekend aanvaar. Vir baie gesinne is dit egter nie bloot 'n keuse tussen twee werksgleenthede nie. Plaaslike werk wat dieselfde finansiële geleentheid bied, is eenvoudig nie altyd beskikbaar nie.

Die pad Amerika toe

Om deur die H-2A-program Amerika toe te gaan, is nie so eenvoudig soos om 'n tas te pak en op 'n vliegtuig te klim nie. Aansoekers werk dikwels deur 'n werwingsagent wat hul ervaring en vaardighede evalueer en probeer bepaal by watter soort boerdery en werk hulle die beste sal pas. Daarna volg die visum- en reisreëlings voordat die lang reis uiteindelik kan begin. Daar kan ook groot aanvanklike uitgawes wees. Afhangend van die werwings- en terugbetalingsreëlings, kan 'n werker aanvanklik geld vir onder meer die visumproses en vliegtuigkaartjie moet voorsien. Die bedrag kan maklik tienduiseende rande beloop, veral wanneer die wisselkoers in berekening gebring word. Maar wanneer die vliegtuig uiteindelik opstyg, begin die ander kant van die H-2A-lewe.

“Ek moes leer om alles self te doen”

Vir Madeleine Bokelmann, wie se man H-2A-werk in Amerika doen, het dié leefwyse beteken dat sy as vrou en ma moes leer om baie dinge self te hanteer. “Ek moes leer om alles op my eie te doen. Ek moes selfs leer hoe om self 'n band om te ruil en 'n motorbattery te laai,” vertel sy. Hoewel die gesin mettertyd by die nuwe leefwyse aanpas, sê Madeleine dit bly 'n daaglikse uitdaging. Hulle probeer deur gereelde kommunikasie steeds deel van mekaar se lewens wees. 'n Gesprek wanneer hy soggens opstaan en weer voordat hy gaan slaap, help om die afstand 'n bietjie kleiner te laat voel. “Dit bly moeilik. Elke dag is 'n stryd,” sê sy. Die moeilikste oomblikke is wanneer sy siek is en haar man nie daar is om te help nie. Omdat familie ook nie noodwendig naby woon nie, moet sy eenvoudig aanpas en voortgaan. Vir die kinders is dit dieselfde. Daar is goeie dae en moeilike dae, veral wanneer pappa nie 'n belangrike geleentheid kan bywoon nie. Verjaarsdae, huwelikshedenkings, 'n wintersbal of selfs 'n Graad 3-dans kan bittersoet wees – juis omdat een belangrike persoon nie daar is om dit saam met hulle te beleef nie. “Die grootste opoffering is dat ons nie tyd saam deurbring en herinneringe maak nie,” sê Madeleine. Wanneer haar man wel terugkeer, mors die gesin nie tyd nie. “Ons gaan somer dadelik saam uit om te eet.” Haar boodskap aan ander H-2A-gesinne is eenvoudig: Kommunikasie is uiters belangrik. Al leef 'n pa en sy gesin maande lank in verskillende lande, moet hulle daarteen waak om by mekaar verby te begin leef. “'n Mens moet jou leefstyl aanpas om voort te gaan sonder om by mekaar verby te leef. Vertrou mekaar en onthou waarom julle dit doen.”

'n Mamma se perspektief

Dit is nie net die vrou wat tuis agterbly wat die afstand voel nie. Vir Anina Nel, wie se seun Amerika toe is om H-2A-werk te doen, het sy eerste vertrek 'n ander soort kommer gebring – dié van 'n ma wat haar kind duisende kilometers ver moet laat gaan. “Die onbekende wat hy aangedurf het, was my grootste bekommernis. Ek was veral bekommerd oor die reis en dat hy van een vliegtuig na 'n ander moes gaan. Ek was bang hy raak deurmekaar en weet nie wat om te doen nie.” Om te weet jou kind is so ver van die huis af, is nie maklik nie. Tog sê Anina dat moderne tegnologie help om die afstand aansienlik kleiner te laat voel. “Dit is moeilik omdat hy so ver is. Maar of jy nou in Amerika of in die Kaap is, 'n mens kan nie sommer net in die motor klim en daarheen ry nie. Vandag se tegnologie is uitstekend en 'n mens kan gereeld oor die foon praat, wat baie help.” Ten spyte van die tydverskil probeer hulle gereeld kontak hou. Volgens Anina raak 'n mens mettertyd gewoond aan die verskillende tidsone. “'n Mens voel geruster wanneer jy weet waar hulle is.” Die dae waarop sy haar seun die meeste mis, is dieselfde dae waarop talle ander H-2A-gesinne ook hul geliefdes die nodigste het – tydens groot familiebyeenkomste, verjaarsdae en ander belangrike geleenthede. Gelukkig, sê sy, haal haar seun vinnig in wanneer hy weer tuis is.

Die bekommernis van 'n mammahart

Anders as wat sommige mense dalk verwag, sê Anina dat sy nie voortdurend oor haar seun se veiligheid bekommerd is nie. Haar grootste kommer is eerder die lang ure wat hy werk. “Tyd is geld. Hoe meer ure hulle werk, hoe beter is die inkomste. Dit hang natuurlik ook af van die soort werk wat jou kind doen.” Sy het egter ook 'n duidelike verandering in haar seun opgemerk sedert hy oorsee begin werk het. Volgens haar het hy meer volwasse en selfstandig geword. Hy het ook geleer om 'n begroting op te stel en verantwoordelik met sy geld te werk. Dan is daar daardie oomblik waarvoor elke H-2A-ma wag: wanneer haar kind weer veilig tuis is. “Dit is die lekkerste gevoel wanneer jou kind terug is – veral wanneer hy jou verras deur met 'n vriend te reël om hom by die lughawe te gaan haal en dan somer onverwags by mamma se werk of by die huis opdaag.” Vir 'n mammahart is daar min dinge wat daarmee vergelyk kan word. “Dit is die lekkerste gevoel om jou kind weer styf vas te hou – veilig terug en sonder die spanning.”

Meer as net geld

Vir Anina gaan H-2A nie net oor geld verdien nie. Die program bied haar seun die geleentheid om ondervinding op te doen, nuwe kennis te bekom en as mens meer selfstandig te word. Haar boodskap aan ander ouers wie se kinders dit oorweeg om H-2A-werk te gaan doen, is om rustig te bly. “Die goeie boere kyk mooi na die kinders. Ondervinding en kennis kan niemand van jou wegneem nie. Hulle leer daar dinge wat hulle nie noodwendig hier sou kon leer nie.” Uiteindelik is dit dalk die kern van die H-2A-lewe: 'n geleentheid wat finansiële voordele, persoonlike groei en waardevolle ondervinding kan bring, maar wat terselfdertyd 'n gesin se vermoë om afstand, verlange en gemiste oomblikke te hanteer, op die proef stel. Vir die persoon wat oorsee werk, is dit maande se harde werk. Vir die eggenoot wat tuis bly, is dit maande van selfstandig wees. Vir die kinders is dit maande waarin pappa se plek by belangrike geleenthede leeg bly. En vir die ouers is dit maande waarin hulle moet vertrou dat hul kind veilig is en die beste van die geleentheid maak. Maar wanneer die vliegtuig uiteindelik weer land en daardie langverwagte drukkies plaasvind, voel die maande se afstand vir 'n oomblik die moeite werd.

Cash Send request at hospital – but no invoice?

[letter to the editor, Platinum Weekly newspaper, Rustenburg]

Dear Editor,

On Saturday, 19 September 2026, I took my child to a hospital in Rustenburg after struggling for several days to bring down his fever. As a worried mother, I was frightened and at my wits' end. I had paid the hospital account, including the Ampath blood tests, when a hospital employee unexpectedly told me that I needed to pay an additional amount for further blood tests. When I explained that I had already paid, he said these were additional tests and that the relevant department was closed. He then asked me to make the payment via Cash Send. This immediately raised alarm bells. I was not given an invoice, account number or any paperwork reflecting either my name or my child's name. I could not understand why payment for tests performed through a hospital would have to be made via Cash Send. I approached another nurse and explained what had happened. She agreed that the request sounded highly unusual and indicated that she did not trust it either. I cannot say with certainty what the employee's intentions were, but I would like to warn other patients and parents: please be extremely cautious if anyone at a medical facility asks you to pay through an unofficial channel such as Cash Send. The fact that someone is wearing a uniform and appears to be a legitimate staff member does not mean that you should make a payment without proper documentation. Insist on an official invoice containing the patient's details, verify the payment directly with the hospital's accounts department and obtain a receipt. When families are frightened and worried about a sick child, they are particularly vulnerable and should not be placed in a situation like this. I sincerely hope the hospital investigates this matter and ensures that patients are clearly informed about legitimate payment procedures.

Concerned Mother

Public Education Notice: Patient Payment Procedures

22 September 2026
Medicare Private Hospital Rustenburg

The hospital takes any concern relating to patient billing, receipts, invoices or requests for payment extremely seriously. We are committed to transparent, ethical and accountable billing practices, and we encourage any patient or family member who is uncertain about a payment request to escalate the matter immediately to hospital management before making any payment. The hospital's approved payment channels are medical aid authorisation, authorised government or third-party funder authorisation where applicable, electronic funds transfer into the authorised hospital bank account reflected on the official invoice, approved card payment facilities, and receipted cash payments only at authorised reception/cashier points where the payment is captured and receipted through the hospital's electronic cash vault process. The hospital does not require or endorse payment via WhatsApp, Cash Send, e-wallet, personal bank account, or any other informal payment channel. For medical aid patients, treatment is processed through the medical aid authorisation and claims process. Where authorisation is declined or benefits are exhausted, the hospital's case management and billing teams will engage directly with the patient or family to explain the outcome and discuss lawful, documented and receipted payment alternatives. Where the hospital has waived co-payments for patients, no additional co-payment should be paid directly to any staff member. It is also important for the public to understand that a private hospital account may involve more than one billing entity. The hospital account is separate from accounts that may be issued by independent healthcare providers, including laboratories, radiology providers, emergency department doctors, anaesthetists, specialists or other professional providers involved in the patient's care. Patients should request an official invoice and receipt from each provider and should only pay into the provider's authorised business account or through an approved card payment facility. The hospital will investigate any allegation of irregular payment requests and will take appropriate action where wrongdoing is identified. Members of the public are requested not to hand cash to any staff member outside authorised payment points, and to report any request for Cash Send, WhatsApp payment, personal account payment or undocumented cash payment immediately to the hospital manager on call, the frontline nurse, the nursing manager or the hospital manager.

Patients and families can be assured that the hospital's approved payment channels are limited to the following:

- Medical aid authorisation and claims, processed through the hospital's case management and billing teams.
- Government or third-party funder authorisation, where applicable, including approved statutory and referral arrangements.
- Electronic funds transfer (EFT), only into the authorised hospital bank account shown on the official invoice.
- Approved card payment facilities.
- Receipted cash, only at authorised reception or cashier points, where it is captured and receipted through the hospital's electronic cash vault process.

No cash should be handed to any staff member outside an authorised payment point, and no payment should be made into a staff member's personal account.

Advice to patients and families

We understand that when attending to a family emergency you want to act quickly and may be less likely to question a request. For that reason, we urge everyone to remember the following:

- Ask for an official invoice before paying, and check that it shows the correct patient, provider and account details.
- Obtain a receipt immediately after payment and keep your invoice and proof of payment for your records and medical aid claims.
- A uniform or name badge is not proof that a payment request is genuine. If a request feels wrong, do not pay. Stop and ask for the hospital manager on call to verify it.
- Report any request for Cash Send, WhatsApp, personal account or undocumented cash payment immediately.

Where to report a suspicious request

Are you planning to vote in the 2026 Local Government Elections?

South Africans will head to the polls on Wednesday, 4 November 2026, to elect ward councillors and political-party representatives for municipal councils. These councils make decisions about essential local services, including roads, water, electricity and waste removal. Are you planning to vote?

"Yes, I'm voting. It's our democratic right. Whether we like politics or not, its decisions affect every Rustenburg resident. When the taps run dry or the power goes off, local government matters."

Martha Lerm, Rustenburg

"Yes. As a young South African, I want change. I'm concerned about the economy and youth unemployment, and I believe voting gives us a chance to choose a different direction for our country."

 Did you know?

TREES CAN WARN THEIR NEIGHBOURS OF DANGER... Trees may appear silent, but some can share chemical warning signals. When insects feed on their leaves, certain trees and other plants release airborne chemicals called volatile organic compounds. Nearby plants may detect these signals and prepare their own defences, helping them respond faster or more strongly if attacked. Some of these chemicals can even attract predators that feed on the invading insects. Scientists call this plant-to-plant signalling – not conversation as humans know it, but a remarkable natural warning system hidden in the air around us.

Donker perde skryf geskiedenis!

Platinum Weekly koerant | Rustenburg – Min mense het hulle as die gunsteling beskou, maar Hoërskool Rustenburg se Blitzboom-sewesspan het vriend en vyand verstom deur die gesogte Clover NWU Champion of Champions-titel in Potchefstroom te verower op Saterdag 19 September 2026.

Die Rusties, wat deur SuperSport Schools as die toernooi se “dark horses” beskryf is, het hul merkwaardige veldtog met oorwinnings oor Fichardtspark en Northwood begin. Daarna het hulle die rugbyreus Monument met 24-19 in die kwarteindstryd en Grey Kollege met 17-10 in die halfeindstryd uitgeskakel.

In die eindstryd het die Rusties teen die verdedigende kampioene, Westville Boys' High, te staan gekom. Shayloh Cox en Junaid Stevens het vroeg gewys hoe gevaarlik die Rusties met bal in die hand kan wees, maar met die telling op 17-12 in Westville se guns en die horlosie wat vinnig uitgeloop het, was daar geen ruimte vir foute nie.

Die Rusties het egter geweier om tou op te gooi. Met sekondes oor is die bal vinnig deur die hande gestuur voordat Dian Huisamen by die pale gaan druk het. Die doelskop het deur die pale geseil en die Rusties 'n onvergeetlike oorwinning van 19-17 besorg.

Die toernooi se “donker perde” het uiteindelik die blinkste geskitter. Hoërskool Rustenburg is die 2026 Clover NWU Champion of Champions-kampioen – 'n uitsonderlike prestasie waarop die hele Rustenburg-gemeenskap trots kan wees!

Distilled in the Elgin Valley since 2003, where cool-climate terroir meets tradition. Three copper stills - Long Cecil, Long Tom and Big Bertha, produce a pure, fruity eau de vie, the heart of an estate-grown, French oak-matured Cape brandy.

SELECTED STORES

Handcrafted in Calitzdorp, where Klein Karoo heritage runs deep. Traditional distilling meets rugged terroir for a smooth, full-bodied Cape brandy, with each expression uniquely its own.
