

Platinum Weekly newspaper – South Africa is redesigning its electricity market. Before the chairs are rearranged, the person paying for the meeting is now invited to comment on two documents that could reshape how electricity is bought, sold and billed and all the complexities that comes with it. Meet PP: the Powerless Payer. He is the guy who has a reliable address for the invoice. Public comments on the Revised Electricity Pricing Policy, 2026, and the Electricity Sector Market Transformation Position Paper, 2026, close on 28 October 2026.

Competition arrives.
Does your household get a ticket?
The market paper proposes competition between generators, including Eskom, with traders and eligible customers buying electricity through a wholesale market or direct contracts. The ambition is better efficiency, investment and, ultimately, lower costs. But households and smaller businesses would initially remain with their existing electricity retailer. The paper calls them “captive” customers. Larger eligible users would gain more choice, with eligibility expanding over time. Captive. An interesting choice of word for the guest of honour at a competition launch. So, the question is practical: how will cheaper wholesale electricity reach the household that cannot shop around?

The electricity is cheaper.
The delivery has a family to feed.
Electricity has a production cost and a delivery cost. In a typical municipal supply chain, electricity generators (Eskom) supply power, transmission carries it over the main grid, and distribution brings it to customers. The municipality also buys and bills for electricity. A private generator can sell to an eligible buyer directly or through a trader, using those same networks, or their own network, subject to the applicable approvals. A trader can manage purchases and supply risks; its service must earn its keep. It is not compulsory in every transaction. Nor does every generator need to build duplicate power lines. Shared wires make sense... on paper that is... provided access is fair and charges are justified. The pricing draft requires NERSA-approved network charges. Wheeling – using the grid to deliver contracted electricity – must not be subsidised by non-wheeling customers. Costs include the generation of electricity, network delivery; capacity and balancing; retail administration; and applicable subsidies, legacy costs and municipal surcharges amongst other costs. Depending on the connection and service, bills can also involve connection costs, losses, wheeling or export-credit administration, and poor-power-factor or congestion charges. Some costs are bundled; they must not be counted twice. The generator earns from power, network operators from delivery, and retailers or traders from their services. Customers benefit when the complete delivered bill falls. A bargain at the power station is only the beginning of the calculation.

Who gets the discount—and who gets the difference?
The draft does not promise to reimburse every bad decision. It expressly says revenue recovery is not guaranteed and pricing should exclude inefficiency. Excess losses and bad debt above approved standards should be excluded from recoverable revenue. But there are important qualifications. Legacy power-contract costs would be reconciled against revenues. Some balancing shortfalls could be recovered through charges. And the section on negotiated pricing agreements allows certain approved special-price deals to produce revenue shortfalls recoverable through the regulatory process. Such deals may protect jobs and keep businesses operating. That does not make their cost disappear. Publish the expected benefit, the shortfall, who pays it, and for how long. A discount must come with an address for the balance. Eskom has also received substantial government debt relief. That debt relief will ten-to-one not be available for private electricity generators. That loss might find its way to your bill.

THE POWERLESS PAYER

wants a seat at the table, not just the bill

A watchdog needs teeth, not another acronym
The proposed safeguards include transparent bills, separate accounts, NERSA oversight, market surveillance and action against anti-competitive conduct. Municipal surcharges must not simply be piled on top of existing hidden surpluses. Now for implementation: publish cost studies, disclose conflicts, audit charges, protect maintenance funding and impose consequences for abuse. “Loot, neglect, invoice” is in many cases the business model currently in place. And now put an extra burden on top of that which is already difficult to manage?

A basic charge is not a basic question
A grid costs money to keep available even when a customer uses little electricity. Fixed charges are not entirely new. But a single mother in a small flat and several households in the backyard of another customer with one meter raise different affordability questions. The draft proposes a lifeline tariff with no fixed charge for qualifying customers. The public should demand workable eligibility rules.

Put power nearby. Keep responsibility closer. Well-sited solar directly supplying a mine, shopping centre, factory or residential development can shorten the electrical route, reduce associated losses and avoid some new lines across neighbouring land. Already-developed sites can reduce land disturbance. Systems can grow with demand. Siting, drainage, fire precautions, batteries and eventual removal still matter. The supplier and buyer should take explicit responsibility for the risks that comes with their “Bargain electricity supply deal”. Neither party should leave neighbours as unpaid insurers.

Pull up a chair before the bill arrives
These consultations give the payer a chance to influence the rules. Ask who benefits, who bears each risk, who checks the numbers, and what happens when the promises fail. Platinum Weekly will post both documents at www.platinumweekly.co.za. Read them and submit your comments by 28 October 2026. PP should stand for Public Participation. The invoice already knows where you live. Make sure the policymakers hear from you, too.

Have your say: two documents, two submissions
The extended deadline for both documents is 28 October 2026. The official extension specifies no closing time. Send your comments ahead of the date; do not assume a midnight deadline.

Pedestrian dies after collision on R104 towards Kroondal

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – A pedestrian died after being struck by a vehicle on the R104 towards Kroondal on Saturday evening, 26 September 2026.

Rustenburg First Responders received a call at approximately 21:38 reporting that the pedestrian was critically injured. Its volunteers and North West Provincial EMS attended the scene, where emergency personnel treated and stabilised the patient before transporting them to hospital.

The patient later died despite the medical care provided, Rustenburg First Responders administrator Ammaar Wadee confirmed. Police are investigating the circumstances of the collision. The responders extended their condolences to the person's family, friends and loved ones.

Has crime reset its alarm clock?

GAM TO MIDDAY WAS DURBAN'S BUSIEST CRIME WINDOW IN AUGUST — A REMINDER FOR COMMUNITIES EVERYWHERE TO STAY ALERT.

Platinum Publishers | SA

The morning rush may get households moving, but it can also give criminals an opening. Figures released by Blue Security on 29 September 2026 show that 6am to midday was the busiest crime period in its Durban records for August.

Of the 468 cases recorded, 264 occurred during the day and 204 at night. The morning window accounted for 147 incidents. Blue Security CEO Henk van Bemmelen said people leaving for work, doing the school run and opening businesses can become distracted, while properties may become vulnerable shortly after their occupants leave. "Daylight should never be confused with an absence of risk."

The pattern changed from July, when the company recorded 193 daytime incidents and 232 at night. This shift highlights why vigilance should extend beyond the hours we instinctively consider dangerous.

Statistics South Africa's 2025/2026 Governance, Public Safety and Justice Survey found that 80.7% of respondents felt safe walking alone in their neighbourhood during the day, compared with 37.9% after dark. Those perceptions, however, measure something different from recorded crime incidents. The Blue Security figures cover one company's records in Durban and do not establish a national trend or the busiest crime hours in Rustenburg, Thabazimbi or Northam. But the practical lesson travels: everyday routines deserve attention wherever we live.

For residents closer to home, its advice is straightforward: arm alarms whenever the property is vacant, check that gates and garage doors have closed properly, and remain aware of your surroundings during the morning rush.

The sun coming up should never mean letting your guard down.

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg

Rustenburg First Responders volunteers saw a serious crash unfold near Ramochana Bridge on the R510 at approximately 17:13 on Sunday, 27 September 2026, and moved in immediately to help.

The volunteers called for additional emergency assistance before assessing the 14 people at the scene. According to Rustenburg First Responders administrator Ammaar Wadee, several had sustained moderate injuries. Emergency crews treated and stabilised the patients before transporting them to hospital for further care.

Rustenburg First Responders thanked LenCo (Pty) Ltd for helping ensure patients received medical care at Medicare Private Hospital. The organisation also commended the emergency medical services that attended the scene for their swift response and teamwork.

The cause of the crash has not yet been confirmed.

The union urged Parliament's Portfolio Committee on Defence and Military Veterans to convene urgent hearings. It also called for prosecutions to proceed without fear or favour, disciplinary action against those responsible, and any recovered funds to support critical defence operations and employee welfare. Older residents targeted on smallholdings in De Wildt and Rhenosterfontein

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg, Brits – Two house robberies on smallholdings in De Wildt and Rhenosterfontein late on Friday, 11 September, and early on Saturday, 12 September 2026 have prompted renewed calls for vigilance among rural residents. Colonel Anne Magakoe confirmed that SAPS is investigating both incidents. No arrests had been made and there is currently no confirmed information linking the Rhenosterfontein and De Wildt robbery to one another.

In De Wildt, situated between Pretoria North and Brits, north of the Magaliesberg, a 66-year-old man and his 69-year-old wife were allegedly threatened by two masked suspects at approximately 23:45 on Friday, 11 September. According to Magakoe, the couple were asleep when they heard noises outside. They noticed two unknown men near their electric fence and, suspecting that the men were tampering with it, went outside to investigate. The men, who were wearing balaclavas, allegedly threatened the couple and followed them into the house, demanding cash, cellphones and a wristwatch before fleeing. Police investigations continue.

In Rhenosterfontein, a rural smallholding area just outside Rustenburg, three unknown men allegedly entered a residence through a sliding door at approximately 02:00 on Saturday, 12 September. The suspects allegedly assaulted a 62-year-old man and his 60-year-old female Santie Bothma (54), whose memory lives on among her family, friends and supporters of the "Be Her Voice" campaign.

Another court date, another wait for Santie's loved ones

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – The murder case of Santie Bothma (54) has been postponed again, with the next appearance scheduled for 24 November 2026 in the Rustenburg Magistrates' Court. The matter was previously scheduled for 22 September 2026. The case has already been before the court on several occasions. According to the latest update, no bail was granted, and the accused, Corné Engelbrecht (22) and Roellen Hattingh (34), remain in custody. They face charges of murder, robbery, hijacking and defeating the ends of justice in connection with Bothma's death. Her body was discovered on Dinie Estate Road, Rustenburg, on 5 May 2026. Her vehicle was later recovered in Protea Park during a police operation. The latest postponement means a further wait for Bothma's family, friends and supporters. Through the "Be Her Voice" campaign, supporters have continued to stand alongside her loved ones and call for justice. Platinum Weekly extends its continued condolences to Bothma's family and friends as they endure this difficult time.

Gunfire and explosives in cash-van ambush

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – A cash-in-transit van and its escort vehicle came under gunfire during an armed robbery at approximately 17:40 on Thursday 3 September 2026, leaving at least one person wounded. North West Hawks spokesperson, warrant officer Amogelang Malwetse, confirmed that the attack was reported along the N4, between the Petro Port filling station and the Mooinooi off-ramp.

The scene of the cash-in-transit robbery in which a cash van and its escort vehicle came under gunfire.

According to Malwetse, an unknown number of suspects intercepted the cash delivery van and opened fire. One person travelling in the escort vehicle was shot in the leg and rushed to hospital for medical attention. The suspects allegedly robbed security officials of two rifles and two pistols before fleeing with an undisclosed amount of cash. A separate SAPS report describes more than ten suspects travelling in a Mercedes-Benz sedan, a BMW sedan and a Toyota bakkie. According to that account, the attackers fired at both vehicles, injured occupants of the escort vehicle and forcibly removed the occupants of the cash van before using explosives on it. The SAPS report further states that one of the suspects' vehicles collided with a civilian vehicle, injuring a civilian. The Rustenburg-based Hawks' Serious Organised Crime Investigation unit is investigating. No arrests had been made. Anyone with information that could help investigators identify and arrest the suspects is urged to contact Crime Stop on 08600 10111 or submit a tip-off via the MySAPS app.

GONE TOO SOON... North-West University student Onalenna Selebogo (21), remembered for her warmth, determination and promise. The case against the man accused of her murder is set to return to court on 12 October 2026. (Instagram photo)

Onalenna's murder case: the wait for justice continues

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – "The case against Walter Tshela, accused of murdering North-West University (NWU) student Onalenna Selebogo (21), has been postponed to 12 October 2026 for pre-trial proceedings in Mogwase Court," NPA spokesperson Lindiwe Mabasa confirmed. The case has been postponed several times. Tshela is accused of murdering his girlfriend, Onalenna, whose body was discovered wrapped in sheets at a flat in Tuin Street, Rustenburg, on 3 August 2025. She had sustained multiple stab wounds to the neck. Students and staff at NWU previously gathered at vigils to honour her memory and call for accountability and justice. Those who knew Onalenna remember her as a warm, determined young woman with a bright future ahead of her. As the court process continues, Platinum Weekly extends its heartfelt condolences to Onalenna's family, friends and the NWU community.

Meat off the shelves as Rustenburg businesses face compliance checks

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – Meat products that failed to meet required standards were confiscated during joint compliance inspections at businesses in the Rustenburg CBD and taxi rank on Thursday 10 September 2026. Sergeant Beukes and sergeant Moyo of the Rustenburg SAPS Firearm, Liquor and Second-Hand Goods (FLASH) Unit joined various stakeholders, including the National Regulator for Compulsory Specifications (NRCS), for the operation. Warrant officer Ofentse Mokgadi reported that butcheries were among the businesses inspected. The inspections resulted in the confiscation of non-compliant meat products, with the NRCS issuing notices to comply and receipts for the confiscated goods. Fines were also issued. Acting district commissioner of Bojanala Platinum Sub-District 2, brigadier Mamotsamai Ntoagae, commended the police members and stakeholders for their continued efforts to enforce the law and protect consumers.

Some of the meat products removed from shelves and confiscated during compliance inspections in Rustenburg.

Four tickets, R20,500 and a brighter tomorrow

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – Four rugby tickets became an opportunity to make a meaningful difference when Life Peglerae Hospital's doctors and staff joined forces to raise R20,500 for Lighthouse Child & Youth Care Centre. The money was raised through the sale of four tickets to the Springboks versus All Blacks rugby match, turning the excitement surrounding one of rugby's biggest fixtures into practical support for a local organisation and the children in its care. Doctors and staff enthusiastically supported the initiative, showing how a shared love of sport can bring people together for a worthy cause. The R20,500 cheque was formally handed over to the centre's executive members at Life Peglerae Hospital on Monday 7 September 2026. The occasion marked the culmination of a fundraising effort rooted in generosity, teamwork and care for the Rustenburg community. For Lighthouse, the donation offers tangible support for its work. For those who contributed, it is a reminder that even four tickets can open the door to something much bigger.

Harties turns green again: what’s growing, and what’s being done?

Residents’ concerns prompt a fresh update as the CBC releases 80,000 water hyacinth hoppers and monitors a changing mix of invasive plants hyacinth increased steadily within the mat. According to Coetzee’s latest update, satellite imagery indicates an approximately equal mix of the two plants within a mat measuring about 215 hectares. This changing mix matters: the green vegetation visible on the dam is not all water hyacinth.

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Hartbeespoort
– The green blanket on Hartbeespoort Dam has again raised concerns among residents. Following questions about the dam’s condition, Platinum Weekly approached Prof. Julie Coetzee, deputy director of Rhodes University’s Centre for Biological Control (CBC), for an update. Thank you to the readers who raised their concerns and encouraged us to revisit this important issue. The latest information shows that the dam’s floating vegetation has been changing: common salvinia expanded following the successful reduction of water hyacinth earlier this year, but water hyacinth is now growing steadily again.

A changing green blanket
According to Coetzee, common salvinia coverage increased from approximately 10 hectares to 440 hectares, or about 24% of the dam, following the reduction in water hyacinth. Its coverage subsequently appeared to stabilise, while field surveys found dense salvinia mats with water hyacinth beginning to grow among them. The balance shifted during September. “With the resurgence of water hyacinth, common salvinia growth is in decline, most likely due to competition from water hyacinth,” Coetzee explained. The CBC recorded a rapid decline in salvinia density over the month, while water

Tiny hoppers, continued action
The CBC has released an additional 80,000 water hyacinth hoppers onto the mat to increase the insects’ population. Dr Kelby English was photographed releasing the hoppers on Friday, 25 September 2026. Readers may remember our 12 December 2025 article, “Planthoppers to the Rescue! Eating Through the Hyacinth at Harties”. At the time, water hyacinth coverage was estimated at 40–45% during the week of 4 November 2025. That report explained the role of Megamelus scutellaris, the tiny water hyacinth planthopper used in the biological control programme. The insects weaken the plants and reduce flowering and seed production. Coetzee says the water hyacinth biological control programme is progressing according to plan. As in previous spring seasons, water hyacinth is expected to suppress and outcompete common salvinia. However, fewer new seeds do not mean the old problem has disappeared. “Although the biocontrol agents reduce water hyacinth flowering and therefore seed output, there is still an extensive seed bank in deeper sediment,” she said. Coetzee also cautioned that uncertainty associated with the El Niño climate pattern, rainfall and dam water levels influences seed germination and growth.

In Perth hang 'n bokvel en die vreugdevure brand hoog. Die Wallabies slaag daarin om die Bokke in 'n hoogs omstrede wedstryd te klop.

Rassie het nie erken dat hy nie die beste span gekies het nie, maar het gesê die spelers het op die dag nie hulle kant gebring nie. En boonop kon seker die beste “Bomb Squad” ooit ook nie die wa deur die drif trek nie. Die feit van die saak is dat die Aussies nou spog dat hulle die wêreldkampioene met net 11 spelers op die veld geklop het! Ai, 'n bitter pilletjie om te sluk.

Luka team brings home 16 medals!

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – Nine participants, 16 medals and plenty of reason to celebrate! Luka Dojo-Ka, based in Luka, returned from the 42nd IFFSK National Funakoshi Cup in Durban with an impressive haul of nine gold, five silver and two bronze medals.

Held on 28 and 29 August 2026, the tournament saw the team achieve success in both kata and kumite. For instructor sensei Matthews Mpolokeng Motsi, who began training the team in late April 2025, the results mark a proud milestone.

Behind the team’s achievements was community support that helped make the trip possible. Matthews thanked Shirley N Tradings and Projects for sponsoring transport, and Rakgadi Happy Motsi for welcoming the team into her home and providing accommodation for two nights. He expressed his gratitude to both supporters for giving the participants the opportunity to compete at such a significant event. With medals around their necks and a memorable tournament behind them, the Luka team has given its community something to cheer about — and plenty to build on. For information about Luka Dojo-Ka, contact sensei Matthews Mpolokeng Motsi on 061 453 6539.

Sensei Matthews Mpolokeng Motsi (left), instructor of Luka Dojo-Ka, led the team to a proud 16-medal finish and earned two gold medals himself.

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – Run/Walk For Life Rustenburg member Faan van der Linde celebrated at the Otter Hall of Fame after completing the 41 km Otter Challenge on 24 September 2026 in 9 hours, 20 minutes and 25 seconds.

Known as the “Grail of Trail”, this spectacular coastal adventure packs a normally five-day hike into one demanding day of steep climbs, technical trails and river crossings. Well done, Faan!

HAVE YOUR SAY

Should high school learners be allowed to use cellphones during school hours?

Although cellphones can be useful for research, communication and emergencies, they may also distract learners and disrupt lessons. Should high schools allow cellphone use during school hours, or should devices remain switched off and safely stored?

“Mostly no. Cellphones distract learners and can lead to disrespect in class, yet teachers get blamed for poor marks. Exceptions should apply for medical monitoring. TikTok, Facebook and Instagram can wait until after school.”

Theresa Oosthuizen, Koster

“No. Many learners already struggle to concentrate without the added distraction of cellphones. They may miss important parts of lessons or disrupt the class, making it harder for teachers to teach and other learners to focus.”

Emelda Ramaboa, Rustenburg

Did you know?

HOW LONG IS THE ROAD FROM MEETING TO FINISHED? A 3.38 km road rehabilitation project in KwaZulu-Natal began in September 2023. The province's 2026 budget still listed it among delayed projects, citing the contractor's cash flow problems. In Northern Ireland, officials scheduled 2.2 km of resurfacing from 13 April to 5 June 2026 – about eight weeks. The work differs, so these examples cannot prove a countrywide speed gap. But they raise a fair question for every road authority: after the meeting, where is the timetable... and who answers when it slips?

Double the podium joy! Run/Walk For Life Rustenburg's Elmarie Pretorius celebrated an age-category win in Johannesburg and third place in Gqeberha.

Two cities, two podiums for Elmarie!

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – Run/Walk For Life Rustenburg member Elmarie Pretorius had double reason to celebrate, earning two podium finishes in just three days! She won the women's 60–69 category at the Absa RUN YOUR CITY JOBURG 10K on Thursday 24 September 2026 in Johannesburg's streets for a lively Heritage Day celebration. On Saturday 26 September 2026, she followed this with third place in the same age category at the SPAR Women's 10km Challenge in Gqeberha, clocking an impressive 46:08.

MUD, MOUNTAINS AND RUSTENBURG GRIT

Gregg Taylor and Sharon O'Reilly braved the cold and mud to complete the Karoo to Coast.

Platinum Weekly newspaper | Rustenburg – Mountains, mud and chilly conditions put Rustenburg Cycling Club (RCC) members to the test as they tackled two memorable mountain-bike events over Heritage week. Louis Bredell and Conrad Schoeman took on the demanding five-day Cape Pioneer, held from 22 to 26 September 2026. Traversing rugged terrain through the Garden Route and Klein Karoo, the pair comfortably completed all five stages – an achievement worth celebrating! On Sunday 27 September, four RCC cyclists tackled the annual Karoo to Coast from Uniondale to Knysna via Prince Alfred's Pass. The revised 89 km route offered spectacular scenery, but recent rains added an extra helping of mud to the challenge. Riaan and Susan Becker, Sharon O'Reilly and Gregg Taylor braved the cold and muddy conditions to complete the event, giving the club another four reasons to cheer. Congratulations to all six riders for flying Rustenburg's flag with determination and pedal power!
